

President of Iraq, Military Leaders Take Over Control

Apparently Aim to Reunite With Syria, United Arabs

BY ALEX EFTY
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Abdel Salam Aref and the leaders of the Iraqi armed forces overthrew their country's Ba'ath Socialist government today and took control.

Aref in one of his early proclamations indicated that he hoped to revive the agreement to merge Iraq with Syria and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The president, an admirer of Nasser, said he would cooperate closely with all Arab nations, "especially with the United Arab Republic."

Aref, who has been Iraq's provisional president since the military ousted Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's dictatorship in February, assumed full powers as head of a new revolutionary council.

Dissolves National Guard
He ordered dissolution of the National Guard, a semi-military unit of Ba'ath Socialist party youths loyal to ousted Deputy Premier Ali Saleh El Saadi, leader of an extreme left faction of Ba'athists. All guardsmen were ordered to surrender their weapons to the armed forces. Those who refused were to be executed on the spot.

Baghdad Radio said the armed forces had captured National Guard headquarters and taken a number of guardsmen prisoner.

The armed forces also were reported to have encountered some resistance in sections of Baghdad, but appeared to have full control by mid-morning. A general curfew proclaimed at 6:40 a.m. was eased to allow Diaz Ordaz, 52, said he would carry on the policies of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. He resigned last week as interior minister.

AP Series Probes U. S., Communist Images in East

"You just don't understand us," Asians complain to Americans.

AP special correspondent William L. Ryan has completed a six-week survey of nations living in the shadow of Red China to find out what influence the United States, the Soviet Union and Red China are having on the teeming lands of the east.

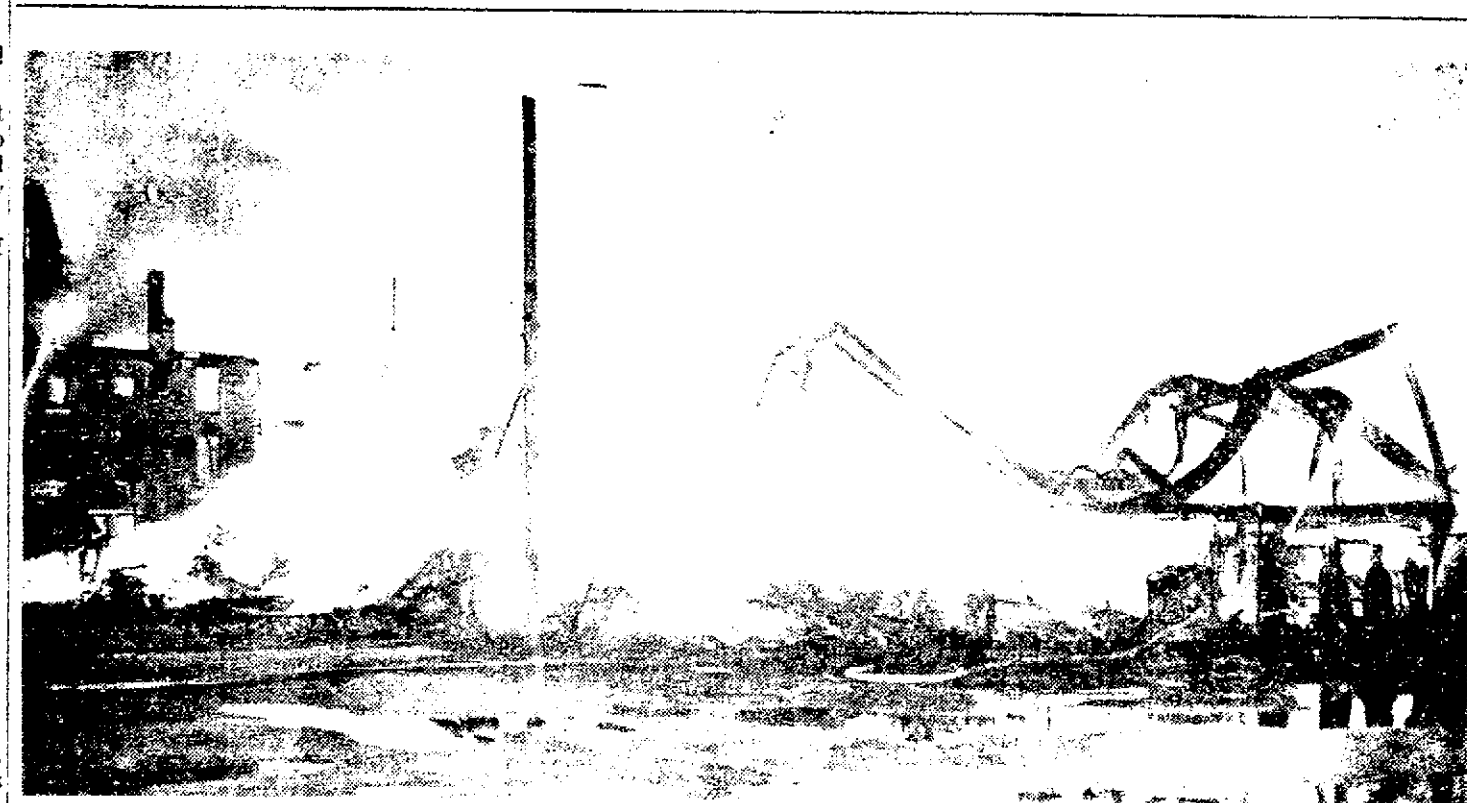

The U.S. image, he finds, is tarnished, but a little better than a few years ago, though Asians remain critical. The Soviet image, once mighty, has become marred. The Chinese are feared, but respected as Asians.

Ryan has embodied his overall findings in a series of three articles, the first of which may be found today on page B-14.

3 Known Dead; 6 Buildings Destroyed; All Victims Lived in One Structure

BY TOM SEPPY
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through a block of hotels and rooming houses near the famed Atlantic City Boardwalk today, killing at least three persons and leaving 20 missing.

Earlier police reports had 25 persons unaccounted for but in the building Sunday night, Capt. Hubert Bourbon said a along with the Rauer family of check of Atlantic City Hospital six and the night watchman, and persons involved dropped Philip Johnson.

All the missing had been staying at the Surfside. Police said at least five of the after the fire was out and news- 30 guests at the Surfside got out men counted three bodies being carried from the debris.

More Victims Sought
The search continued for the more possible victims of the blaze that destroyed five hotel buildings and a rooming house and damaged an apartment building before it was brought under control.

Fire also spread to three other buildings but was quickly extinguished.

Bourbon said police accounts showed 40 persons had been in the Surfside when the blaze broke out shortly after 4 a.m. The Surfside is a kosher establishment catering mainly to elderly Jews.

Seventeen of those in the building escaped, including all three employees on duty, seven guests, and a family that owned the hotel.

Milton Rauer, owner of the Surfside, said 20 of the guests were year-round residents of the hotel and another 10 were there on short vacations from New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

Flames Spread Quickly
"I'm fearful to say a number did not escape," Rauer said. "It went so quickly. A number of them were mostly elderly persons." The building was engulfed in flames in about five minutes, he said.

Atlantic City Hospital said 22 persons were treated there, two of them admitted.

Of the 22, about eight were firemen and policemen. Also treated were three members of the Rauer family and five persons who escaped from the Surfside, along with others in the area.

Kennedy Denies His Administration Has Adopted Anti-Business Attitude

Public Interest Big Issue, He Says in Florida Speech

BY FRANK CORMIER
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy said today his administration is not out to "soak the rich" but, rather, to lead the nation into "prosperity in an age of peace and abundance."

In a major address to the Florida Chamber of Commerce, Kennedy gave the most detailed reply yet to those who argue that his administration is anti-business.

Declaring that Kennedy programs are not pro-business nor anti-business but "pro-the public interest," the President said "we are interested in the steady progress of our entire society."

The speech to the business audience was one of five that Kennedy scheduled for the out-letting of a two-stage talking tour which he hopes will help him capture the South's most populous states—Florida and Texas—in 1964. He stumps Florida today and moves into Texas on Thursday.

Answers Questions
In his text for the Tampa audience, Kennedy raised "the four questions I am most frequently asked by members of the business community."

In each case the President contradicted what he pictured as dominant business thinking. The questions and his answers were: "Is the federal government so large that our private economy is endangered?"

Kennedy said the government has been growing for 175 years but population has grown even faster; that there has been no sudden spurt in government growth since he took office; that a 65 per cent increase in federal civilian spending since 1948 has contrasted with a 227 per cent rise in state outlays.

"Are not continuing deficits and the mounting national debt certain to drive us into bankruptcy?"

Not Near Bankruptcy
Since 1948, he said, the federal debt has risen by 20 per cent, state debt by 41 per cent, corporation debt by 200 per cent, and citizen debt by more than 300 per cent.

"Obviously," he said, "neither the states nor the nation are teetering on the edge of bankruptcy."

1964 Platform GOP Thinking, Rocky States

Charges Goldwater Not Representative Of Party's Thought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller does some Capitol Hill politicking today after firing off a charge that Sen. Barry Goldwater does not represent a consensus of Republican thinking.

The New York governor, a declared candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, made that allegation Sunday on the CBS television program "Face the Nation" and again as he arrived in Washington Sunday night to buttonhole senators in a search for convention support.

The Republican platform in 1964 will represent "the mainstream of Republican thought," Rockefeller told newsmen at Washington National Airport.

And then, carrying his theme out, he said he assumes Goldwater will "have shifted his position prior to the convention" in order to run on such a platform.

Peter O'Donnell Jr., Republican state chairman of Texas and head of the national draft Goldwater organization, said he thinks at least 500 convention votes already are in the Goldwater column. Nomination will require 655.

On the Democratic side of the political fence, President Kennedy embarks today from Palm Beach, Fla., on a five-speech foray into Tampa and Miami, seeking to swing Florida into the Democratic column next year.

His aim will be to keep Texas there when he launches a three-day swing of the state Thursday.

Trade War Disappoints Kremlin

Moscow's Confidence of Victory Over Capitalists Grows Dimmer

Baby Sitter and 4 Tots Flee Fire

OVING, N.Y. (AP) — "Lord knows what would have happened if she hadn't been there," said Henry Brown of his baby sitter, Jo Anne Reagan.

Miss Reagan, 17, made a rope of bed sheets and a bed spread Sunday to enable Brown's four children and herself to escape from his burning home.

She tied one end to a heavy chair in a second-floor bedroom. Two children, Henry, 4, and Thomas, 2, clung to the rope and Miss Reagan lowered them 15 feet to the ground.

A neighbor, James Wyckoff, arrived and Miss Reagan lowered herself and notified firemen.

Wyckoff climbed the rope and rescued 5-month-old Edward Brown and 3-year-old Joanne. Brown and his wife were at work.

Overburdened With Hostages

2 Robbers Escape With $55,000 in Jewelry

NEW YORK (AP) — With the city still laughing about Manhattan's comically-abortive gem robbery two weeks ago, another masterpiece of jewel theft but-foony took place Sunday.

Unlike the misguided $3 million holdup of Nov. 8 in which the loot was left behind, two bandits escaped with $55,000 in gems Sunday. But the intruders found themselves overrun with hostages.

Toward the end, things got so crowded in the plush East Side apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Gurian that the two badmen down 12 flights of stairs to the had all they could do to maintain order.

As a result, Gurian said, the thieves left behind more jewelry than they took.

Police estimated that the jewels left behind are worth $100,000. Gurian estimated his loss at $55,000.

The invaders, one carrying a bouquet as a ruse and the other a gun, collected an elevator operator and a delicatessen de-summed up the episode: "It was like a Keystone Kops comedy."

Mr. and Mrs. Gurian had just settled down to a wedding anniversary breakfast served by driver of the loot car couldn't their maid Mrs. Gurian rushed cop with the old-style floor to a telephone and shouted gear shift and abandoned the "Help — Help" before it was vehicle and gems.

Man Not Hurt in Car-Deer Crash

WAUPACA — Robert A. Knerr, Jr., 20, Shadow Lake Drive, escaped without injuries about 4:30 a.m. Saturday when his car hit a deer on State 54 east of Waupaca, and rolled over in a ditch. County police said Knerr was going south when the deer came out of the east ditch. The 1964 model car Knerr was driving was 75 per cent destroyed, county police said. The car rolled over on its top.

Former Patrolman Handles Tough Security Force for UN

Frank Begley Ranges World on Job of Protecting Big Shots

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—One of his men nabbed driving Bernadotte when they an intruder with a bomb ear-ran into the ambush "I deflect-marked for Soviet Premier ed several shots and caught Khrushchev. Another intercept-some shell fragments in the ed a foe of Tito who tried to face."

When the captains and the kings depart after state visits to the world forum, they can't thank a well-tailored former motorcycle cop for making sure they leave in one piece. Guardian of the Middle East monarchs, Iron Curtain dictators and other controversial figures who journey here to air their views is Frank M. Begley, hefty, cigar-smoking U. N. security chief.

Police Job

"The aim is to give these people maximum safety with minimum intrusion," said Begley, whose guard force has stood vigil through 18 General Assemblies without harm befalling a single delegate or distinguished visitor.

"Providing security for prominent figures presents a unique and a problem," Begley said, watching closely as a U. N. protocol officer shepherded the president of a young African state past unobtrusive guards into the domed assembly hall.

"If some of these diplomats are guarded too closely, they get restless. They are being cheery, but we watched. On the other hand, if protection appears casual, some are quick to protest that their safety is being neglected."

Broad Role

Begley, who carries his 51 years well, looks more like a prosperous business executive than the United Nations' top cop, patrolling what is probably the most unusual beat on earth. For the past 10 years, Begley has played a broader role as chief of buildings and management, passing the title of chief security officer on to his able back.

A onetime Connecticut state policeman who did World War II duty in Air Force intelligence, he came to the United Nations on a 90-day loan in March 1946.

Much Travel

In the early days of the United Nations, Begley's job sometimes took him thousands of miles from headquarters. His florid features still show late Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba got into the building 15 years ago when he grappled during a Congo debate in the down Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator.

"I tried to intercept the gun-chains and brass knuckles and the women wore spiked heels," man as he opened fire on the said John J. Cosgrove, handsome, silver-haired deputy security chief.

"Eighteen guards were injured in that scrap," Cosgrove said. "One broke his arm in two places. Another had to have 18 stitches taken after a woman bopped him on the head with a spiked heel."

When the riot erupted, Cosgrove ran to the council floor and went to the side of the late Dag Hammarskjöld, as the mob screamed threats against the secretary-general.

"I made my decision," said Cosgrove, "if any of them had reached Hammarskjöld, I would have drawn my gun and shot them then and there."

International

Most of the guards are Americans, but there are some foreign citizens on the force, including a National Chinese, a Japanese and several Icelanders.

U. N. guards are schooled in the elements of diplomacy to deal with troublesome but usually harmless cranks who show up every week or so with some plan for world peace to show the secretary-general.

"The full moon seems to bring out these offbeat characters," said Lt. Mahoney. "That is when we have the most trouble."

There was, for instance, the earnest little man who wanted to prove to the United Nations it should abolish airplanes. As an alternative he would reveal his secret formula for self-floating. When the visitor offered to demonstrate by soaring out of Begley's office window, the security chief hastily declined and persuaded him to go home and give the plan a little more thought.

Tito Briefing
When Tito came to the United Nations last month, New York cop, patrolling what is probably the most unusual beat on earth.

also caught fire but were quickly extinguished.

Louis Levine, an artist who lived across the street from the Surfside said he ran to the hotel and heard "screaming death wails. I panicked because the flames were too bright and I couldn't go in."

The fire was about three-fourths of a mile north of Convention Hall where the Democratic National Convention will be held next August.

Other Hotels Closed

The Surfside was the only hotel or rooming house that had guests, according to Police Sgt. James Mullen, one of the first men on the scene. The others were closed for the winter.

Starting at the Boardwalk, the buildings hit by the fire were an apartment building, the Stratmore, Surfside and Leonard hotels, a rooming house, the Imperial Hotel annex and another rooming house.

All four hotels and one rooming house were destroyed. The flames were out of control in the Imperial annex and the second rooming house.

The fire licked at the window frames and sills of the apartment building, but no great damage was reported there.

All the buildings except the apartment house were old-style wooden structures between five and seven stories tall.

Mullen and Police Capt. James Dooney and Patrolman Jack Godowsky were responding to a routine trouble call at the Surfside when they discovered the fire.

"There was no sign of anything," as they opened the front door and entered, Dooney said.

"Then all of a sudden the place went up," he said.

Policeman Heard Cries

After the officers brought out five elderly guests, a man and four women, Dooney said:

"I heard hollering inside. There's no doubt that there were still some others in the place."

Mullen said the five they rescued all were burned, but not badly.

"We don't know how many were in there," said Godowsky. "All we heard were people screaming and hollering."

Hundreds of hastily clad spectators milled on the street and Boardwalk.

Many were residents of buildings across the street, where the wind whipped sparks and ashes.

Firemen were constantly on the run to homes where sparks hit.

Police estimated upwards of 200 firemen from Atlantic City and neighboring shore communities fought the fires.

interviewer that Russian leaders "realize matters are less promising than they had hoped," but have not altered their plans or diminished their efforts.

"They feel they can create hostility for the developed countries among the underdeveloped—can convince them that they are the victims of capitalist exploitation," Herman explained.

Russia showed a 19 per cent gain in 1962 in trade with non-Communist countries. That was twice the U.S. percentage rise, but percentages are deceptive. The actual Soviet increase was $650 million, with imports up $200 million. The U.S. gain to the same areas was $3 billion; imports rose by $1.7 billion.

U.S. Gain Much Greater

That meant that the United States, which already provided a market eight times greater than Russia's for the goods and raw materials of the non-Communist world, enlarged that market by an amount eight times greater than the Russian increase.

Premier Khrushchev told to an American editor in 1957:

"We declare war upon you... in the peaceful field of trade. We declare war. We will win... we are relentless in this and it will prove the superiority of our system."

The neutrals seem less and less impressed with Khrushchev's predictions. Three young African states which flirted seriously with communism—Ghana, Guinea and Mali—have pulled back despite Russia's intensive wooing with financial and military aid and small armies of technicians.

India Looks Westward

The United Arab Republic, which seemed likely to spin into the Soviet orbit after the Suez crisis seven years ago, is spinning out again. Iraq has joined the list of Arab disappointments to Moscow.

India, Asian leader of the neutrals, has turned its eyes Westward and acknowledged closer rapport with the democracies.

One U.S. expert, after reciting the list, remarked to a reporter:

"Except for the one maniac in Cuba, they are not taking the Russian bait."

But officials point out that Russia has established firm influence in the economies of India, the UAR, Cuba, Afghanistan and Indonesia. Together these five get two-thirds of all Soviet foreign aid.

And the analysts note that Russia's aid program—consisting almost entirely of long-term, low-interest loans whose annual cost is a mere fraction of the U.S. aid total—serves its purpose when it merely creates friction between the West and the neutrals, or makes the latter more demanding, or pries open the door to an influx of Soviet technicians.

Kennedy Hotel Suite Cheaper Than Johnsons'

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy will occupy a $75-a-day hotel suite Wednesday night while Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will have a suite with a $100 price tag.

A spokesman for Hotel Texas explained that the arrangements committee believed that the suite selected for the Kennedys "has brighter colors and would be more to the liking of the Kennedys."

The two-bedroom, three-bath and sitting-room suite for the Kennedys is decorated in Chinese modern.

The Will Rogers Suite, which the Johnsons will occupy, features Western pictures.

Neither the Johnsons nor the Kennedys will pay for the hotel accommodations. It's hotel policy, an official explained.

a week-long internal power struggle between moderate and extremist factions of the Ba'ath party. Ba'athist leaders from Syria had gone to Iraq to help restore order.

Aref Pledged That He Would Carry Out "the brotherly obligations to our sister Arab states, especially Syria and the United Arab Republic. We say to our beloved sister, Syria, that we will always be with her. We will carry out our obligations toward her."

Rejected Nasser

The United Arab Republic, Iraq and Syria agreed in April to join in a federation, but the Ba'athists in Syria and Iraq rejected domination by Nasser and dropped Nasserites from their ruling councils. Nasser subsequently denounced the Ba'athists, especially those of Syria, and nothing came of the proposed federation.

Recently the Ba'athists in Iraq and Syria formed a united military command, began discussions of economic union and mate goal.

Aref indicated that he wanted the Syrian-Iraqi military union to continue. He sent a message to the commander of the Syrian army brigade fighting Kurdish rebels in northern Iraq and assured the Syrian his brigade set political union as their ultimate "part of us."

Kennedy Says His Policy Not Anti-Business

ruptcy as the result of these debts."

"Why can't this administration cut federal expenditures?"

Kennedy said cuts have been made—that civilian spending is down from a year ago, that the Defense Department has adopted economies that are saving $1 billion a year and eventually will save an annual $4 billion.

"Will the fiscal policies of this administration lead the nation to inflation?"

Noting that inflation usually results from demand for goods exceeding the supply, Kennedy said "we are far from the full utilization of our capacity."

President Kennedy flew to Tampa today at 500 miles an hour to predict that the time is within sight when men will fly routinely through space at more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Kennedy produced this Buck Rogers vision at the start of a two-stage speech-making tour which he hopes will help him capture the South's most populous states—Florida and Texas—in 1964.

Flying to Tampa from his weekend headquarters at Palm Beach aboard his jet transport, Kennedy readied heady futuristic forecasts for a ceremony marking the 50th anniversary of the first scheduled air service.

25 Times Speed of Sound

In his prepared text, the President contrasted the first commercial flight from Tampa to neighboring St. Petersburg, at a price of $5 a head, with current jet travel.

And, looking toward the decades ahead, he said that "within our sight, if not yet within our grasp, is the day when men will routinely fly through space at 25 times the speed of sound."

That would be more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Even by 1975, Kennedy said, "metroplanes" will be able to take off directly from the crowded center of one city and fly to another—even as airliners cross oceans and continents at 1,400 miles an hour.

Crowded Schedule

The President said that the "pioneering spirit is still burning bright in this state and nation" and that America is ready to venture down a path "through the dark unknown that lies ahead."

Kennedy arranged a busy Florida itinerary, starting with a visit to the headquarters of the strike command at MacDill Air Force Base near Tampa. The President flies from Palm Beach to MacDill in late morning.

Before flying to Washington tonight, Kennedy will make five speeches in Tampa and Miami—one an important foreign policy address at an evening dinner of the Inter-American Press Association.

3 Days in Texas

Thursday, Kennedy will begin a three-day Texas swing that will take him to Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Austin and the Johnson City ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

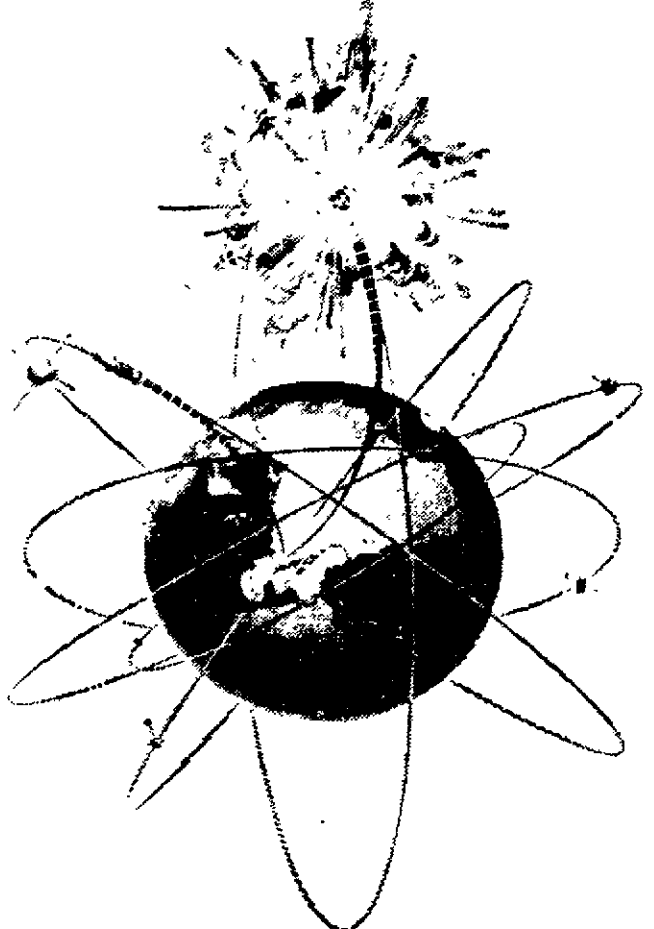

Both the Florida and Texas trips were labeled "non-political" by the White House. However, the President's heavy speaking schedule left no doubt that the 1964 balloting was much in his mind.

Florida has not supported a Democratic presidential candidate since 1948. Kennedy lost the state to Republican Richard M. Nixon by 47,000 votes out of 1.5 million in 1960 and he carries Texas by a similarly narrow margin.

Texas has 24 electoral votes; and Florida next year will have 14, a boost of four because of population gains.

Kennedy's major address at the Miami Beach dinner of the Inter-American Press Association will focus on Latin American problems.

"HUMAN VALUES IN A SCIENTIFIC AGE"

ARE WE EXPLODING OR LOSING THEM?

This will be the theme of a two-day symposium climaxed by two evening presentations including an exciting and mutually interesting panel discussion the second night. The first night will feature topic addresses by three world-renowned educators and authors.

Several Remedies Told For Excess Perspiring

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My husband's feet perspire a great deal. What should he do?

MRS. R.C.
Dear Doctor:
Is there any medication to keep perspiration at a minimum?

MRS. D.M.
Perspiration is a normal activity of the skin, and ordinarily we aren't aware of it, because it evaporates. But in hot weather, or when we are exercising vigorously, or when we are tense and nervous, the flow increases.

Nervous tension is much more important than you may think. It is not unusual, for example, for a patient, while having a medical examination, to perspire profusely. The cause? Just the natural anxiety over what "the doctor might find wrong." So if you are tense, try to learn to relax. Stop being a worrier. It may not be easy and will take some time, but people can do it if they keep trying.

Some teen-agers outgrow excess perspiration as they mature, and as they gain poise and self-confidence.

Extra Cautions
Heavy perspirers have to be extra conscientious about cleanliness. Odor does not come from ordinary perspiration, but rather from bacteria on the skin. This varies from person to person. Some kinds of perhaps perfectly harmless bacteria can, when moist and warm, multiply and result in decomposition. For this reason germicidal soaps or thorough washing with detergents can be helpful.

There are drugs (atropine is one) which depress the involuntary nervous system and hence reduce perspiration. The trouble with these is the possibility of side effects: Excessive dryness of the mouth; blurring of vision; flushing of the skin; urinary disturbances. (You'll need your doctor's supervision for such drugs, naturally.)

For most of us, the commercial anti-perspirants work very well. However, various drying solutions can be more helpful for those with a greater degree of the problem. Aluminum chloride (10 to 25 per cent solution) daubed on armpits, hands or feet is quite effective.

Greater drying is possible with a formalin solution (5 or 10 per cent). This may be irritating to some skins but it reduces both sweat and odor. If irritating, it may be applied at intervals of every third or fourth day.

This is also useful for a foot bath—a teaspoonful of formalin solution in two quarts of water.

Tumor Symptoms
Dear Sir: Are there any noticeable symptoms of a brain tumor? If so I would appreciate knowing them in order to relieve a very worried mind.

C.B.
There are no such symptoms until the tumor has progressed enough to be interfering seriously with the brain by exerting pressure, disrupting blood supply or invading critical areas. So if you are that worried, have a neurologist make tests. (X-ray and the electro-encephalograph are two accurate means.)

MRS. M. W.: Regardless of what your friends say, a hysterectomy will not destroy sexual relations with your husband.

"Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5c in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, Nov. 18, the 322nd day of 1963. There are 43 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1861, Kentucky voted to secede from the Union and established a seat of government at Bowling Green. Because of strong pro-Union sentiment, however, the new state did not actually secede.

On this date: In 1626, Pope Urban VIII consecrated the new Vatican Basilica.

In 1776, the Colonia Army retreated across New Jersey after evacuating Ft. Lee to the British.

In 1897, the Bering Sea Treaty was signed in Washington.

In 1940, Nazi Germany consented to release 30,000 French prisoners interned in Switzerland.

In 1944, patriot forces liberated Albania's capital city of Tirana during World War II.

Ten years ago... The U.S. Navy dedicated its 1.2 million watt transmitter in the Cascade Mountains of Washington.

Five years ago... U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the world's new independent nations against the blandishments of international Communism.

One year ago... Thirteen were killed and 26 reported missing when a Norwegian tanker and a Japanese tanker collided and caught fire at the Japanese port of Kawasaki.

Fox Cities Area Road Projects to be Deferred

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Several major and desirable highway improvements in the Fox River Valley area will be deferred for many additional years unless the State Highway Department's construction budget is replenished, the legislature is being told in connection with pressures for Gov. Reynolds' "Project 66" highway building acceleration bill.

Harvey Grasse, chairman of the State Highway Commission, cited the U.S. Highway 41 belt-line around Green Bay from De Pere to Suamico and the Velp Avenue - Suamico project, and the Buttes des Morts bridge project in Winnebago County at Menasha as typical examples of worthy work that will be delayed at least until 1969 under present budgetary arrangements.

Grasse testified before the legislative finance committee as a champion of a big bonding program as the best means to provide needed improvements quickly.

He filed a long list of similar highway projects of costly dimensions that should be built now, but will be deferred for considerable periods because of the current financing bottleneck.

He said financing is not now in sight "through 1968" for the Green Bay belt-line and the Butte des Morts bridge reconstruction. The bridge, a part of U.S. Highway 41, is the last single roadway section on U.S. Highway 41 between Milwaukee and Green Bay, he reminded.

The widening of the bridge will cost about $1.5 million, the highway administrator said, while the Green Bay area belt-line jobs would involve nearly $10 million in construction costs.

Mike Smith, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Smith, sat comfortably on the floor at the Appleton Public Library Saturday morning and listened to that old favorite, "Erandimondas and His Auntie", read by Mrs. Gerald Jolin. At right, at St. Francis Library, Kathy Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Patterson, listened to Mrs. Dennis Herrling read from A. A. Milne's "House at Pooh Corner." The programs were planned to increase children's interest in good books, and to show them the fun to be found in reading.

Mrs. Gerald Jolin entertained the younger children at the 9:30 a.m. program Saturday morning at the Appleton Public Library. She had no problems with brief attention spans, as the children were quickly caught up in the dramatic presentation of favorite stories. Mrs. Henry Bollenbeck presented the program for the older children at 11 a.m. At left, Kathy Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Flanagan, peeks into one of the books read at St. Francis Library. Storybook Characters Cast a Spell

Storybook characters came alive Saturday morning as elementary school children were guests at Book Week programs sponsored by the Lawyers' Wives of Outagamie County. At Appleton Public Library, St. Francis Library and the Kimberly Library, members of the organization entertained youngsters at two morning programs, according to age groups. The women employed their dramatic talents to give interpretation to authors of classic children's works, and to more recent books.

Each child attending a program was given a book mark and at each program a book was awarded one child present. Posters depicting the celebration of National Book week were placed in schools throughout the county, and children in the county who use libraries where programs were not scheduled were invited to attend the one closest to them. Hundreds of youngsters took advantage of the special 'story hours.'

Mary Ann Welsch, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Welsch, responded to Sinclair Lewis' "Bongo" with a smile of her own Saturday morning at the Appleton Public Library. Above, at the St. Francis Library, Pat Ferron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ferron, and Mary Patterson, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Patterson, heard favorite stories from "The Arbutnot Anthology", compiled by Mary Hill.

A gift exchange will be held and members will donate items for a layette for the Pope's store-room. Mrs. George Kroes reported on the Green Bay Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's meeting. Mrs. Kroes told about the Catholic Girls' Camp at Loon Lake.

Contract Depends On King

By a wise provision of Mother Nature some of us go to a great deal of trouble to look for queens, and others search just as hard for kings. I'm talking about bridge players, of course, and the heroine of my story was looking for a paper king.

West took the top hearts and switched to a trump. Mrs.
Mickee Heumann, Los Angeles
Mixed Pair Champion, drew two rounds of trumps and then wondered who had the king of diamonds.

If East had the king of diamonds, a finesse would be in order. If West had the king, some other play would be needed.

How do you find out where the kings are? Never underestimate the power of a pretty girl.
Mrs. Heumann reasoned that East needed one of the missing kings for his raise to two hearts, and that West needed one of the kings for his opening bid. If she could locate the king of clubs, that would tell her who had the king of diamonds.

Leads Queen
For this reason Mrs. Heumann led the queen of clubs from her hand before beginning the diamonds. West played a low club, and declarer won with dummy's ace.

There was now good reason to believe that East had the king of clubs. If West held that card he would have played it on declarer's queen.

If East had the king of clubs,
West surely had the king of diamonds. Since a normal diamond finesse would not work, Mrs.
Heumann cashed the ace of diamonds and led a low diamond.
Fortunately, West had to play the king. Declarer still had the queen of diamonds to capture East's jack, and the contract was safe. If South had taken a normal diamond finesse she would have lost the queen to West's king, and another diamond to East's jack.

Picnic Table Plans Available

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We took an auto trip to California last summer. In some picnic areas we saw wood picnic tables that we admired very much. Is there any place we can get plans or sketches of this type of table?

A: Send 15 cents (no stamps), to Superintendent of Documents,
Washington 25, D.C., for a copy of "Picnic Tables" (No. J 29.2-a:P587/3). This leaflet contains detailed plans and pictures of various picnic tables and seats used throughout the country by the National Park Service.

Q: We have a problem with snow blowing it through our attic louvers when there is a windy storm. We want to leave the louvers open for the winter.
Is there any way to prevent the snow being blown in?

A: You are right about wanting to keep the louvers open during the winter for adequate ventilation in the attic area; otherwise, condensation may be a problem. Try installing a hinged panel of plywood behind the louver (inside surface). During storms, this is closed over the louver; at other times, the panel is folded back. With pul-leys and a window chain, the panel can be operated from the floor below.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

GREETINGS FROM BABY TOO
Dear Louise: Our first baby is eight-months-old. I am wondering if it would be proper to include his name along with ours on Christmas cards as so many of our friends do.
Louise Davis Answers:
It is optional. Christmas cards and the accompanying names or signatures are in a class by themselves so there is no special rule governing them. Many parents have fun pretending that their infants can say "Happy Christmas" too. Some include the names of their household pets from parakeets to pooches.
GIRL'S CHRISTMAS PROBLEM
Dear Louise: I have been going with a boy for five months but we are not engaged. I have been to his parents' home several times and like them very much. Would it be proper for me to get a Christmas gift for the young man and also for his parents?
Louise Davis Answers:
If this apparent romance continues to progress, I suggest that you get something impersonal and rather inexpensive for the boy such as an initialed linen handkerchief, book, cuff links, scarf, a roll of film (if he's a camera hound), a recording of one of his favorite numbers. As you're not engaged, a gift for the parents would not be in order, but do send them a card. If they invite you to their home for dinner, you could take along a box of candy or salted nuts.

Law Day Plans Discussed At Meeting in Milwaukee

Mrs. Walter Brummund, Appleton, Outagamie County, suggested programs for schools, churches, service clubs and other interested organizations will be available, as will a newly revised pamphlet explaining Law Day.
Law Day activities and programs for 1963 were reported by representatives of each area. Mrs. Harry Hoeffel, Outagamie chairman, informed the group that Mrs. Donald Herrling, '64 chairman, will emphasize the program in schools, as it has in the past. Exhibits and films will be available on request. The '64 program is still in preliminary stages and will be announced later by Mrs. Herrling.
Mrs. Herbert Weiland, Delavan, reported on a project that has found approval in her county. Members of Lawyers' Wives there accompanied drivers' education students to sessions of traffic court.

Your Problems

Some Rovers and Romeos Know They Are the Same—Jerks

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDEDS: Is it possible for a man to be in love with his wife and have an affair with another woman? My husband insists it is, but I have the feeling he is taking me for an idiot.
The woman is 15 years younger than I am and he has seen her half a dozen times. I learned of the affair quite by accident and told him immediately he could have a divorce. His reply was, "I don't want a divorce. I love you."
When I asked him what was wrong with our marriage he said, "Nothing whatever. I can't think of a thing I would change." When I asked him why he stepped out on me he replied, "Because I am a big jerk."
He has sworn on the family Bible that he will never look at another woman if I will forgive him and not mention this again. Should I believe him? Is it possible that a man who loves his wife would step out on her?
Stormy Weather

Little Rich Girl
Dear Girl: Don't be too hard on your parents. If they knew better they would do better. Even though they are adults and have probably seen a good bit of life they are self-conscious and inhibited about sex because this is the way their parents brought them up.
The best place to learn about sex is at home, but because millions of parents are incapable of discussing sex with their children the kids must get their information elsewhere. My new book, "Ann Landers Talks To Teen-Agers About Sex," was written at the requests of thousands of teen-agers, like yourself, who want straight answers, not double-talk or fairytales, and they can't get the answers from their parents.

Parents' World Boy Has Toilet Trouble Since Return From Wilds

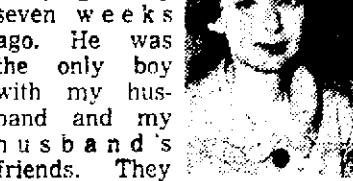

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: We have been having a crazy problem with my six-year-old son ever since he came back from a month-long camping trip seven weeks ago. He was the only boy with my husband and my friends. They were in real wilderness, camping outdoors. Needless to say, they didn't have any bathroom facilities.

Since he came home, he acts as if we don't, either.

He's all right at school. And he keeps himself dry and clean. But when he's at home, he insists on going into the backyard to urinate, even at night.

Is this the kind of problem we should take him to a clinic about, or do you think we can do something about it ourselves at home? Our M.D. laughed and said it would stop when the weather gets cold, but it hasn't. And telling him we're angry and asking him to stop acting like a baby hasn't helped at all.

MRS. J. H.

This is probably his way of trying to prove to you that he's still the "real man" he was led to believe his father thought he was on the trip. It's always dangerous to play up to a child this age and pretend that he is grownup. Such treatment makes him angry both about being rejected as the child he really is and also about being rejected as the adult he thinks he is.

Because shaming and scolding him make him feel even smaller, these tactics can't help.

So stop such reactions as well as ones that appeal to him about having his dreams of glory ruined.

The only safe and sensible way to solve this problem is to help him tell you about how angry he is, while you continue to treat him like the 6-year-old child he is. Tell him you think he's angry and encourage him to tell you his feelings.

In addition, arrange for him to play indoors after school with plenty of his friends around—preferably at their homes. As he gradually fits himself back into his real world of children, he should find it natural to go back to using the toilet.

If, however, his behavior doesn't change in another few weeks with such treatment, get professional help from personal psychological counseling. The agency whose name I'm sending you can arrange such appointments for you.

television and radio appearances and performed before more than 602,000 persons. The program is called "New World of Sight and Sound."

SEAMS TO ME By Patricia Scott

Pillows Trim Room

Few accessories lend themselves so perfectly to adding that extra spot of color, as do pillows. Two very popular pillows for the bedroom are the ruffled edge and flange edge pillows. Use whatever fabric you wish as long as it is in keeping with your room decor.

1. Use a knife edge form and cut 2 cover sections the same size as the pillow plus one-inch for seams.

2. Cut ruffle strip on the true bias or the crosswise grain. Cut it twice the width of the finished ruffle plus 1/2 inch seam allowance. For length, cut it one-and-a-half times to twice the circumference of the pillow.

3. Turn edge of strip under 1/4 inch to the wrong side at one end. Press. Fold strip in half lengthwise, wrong side to the inside and press. Stitch the ruffle facing to the inside of the circle. Stitch together. Place other pillow section on top of first, right sides together, and stitch, leaving a large enough opening for inserting pillow. Turn to right side, insert pillow and slip stitch opening closed.

1. Use knife edge form in any size you wish. First decide width of finished flange edge. Then cut two pieces of fabric the diameter of the form plus twice the width of the flange plus one-inch for seams. For instance, if the diameter of the pillow is 10 inches, and the width of the flange is 2 inches, cut the cover sections 10 inches plus 4 inches plus 1-inch, equals 15 inches. For a square pillow, as shown here, cut two pieces 15" X 15". If the pillow is round, cut two complete circles 15 inches in diameter.

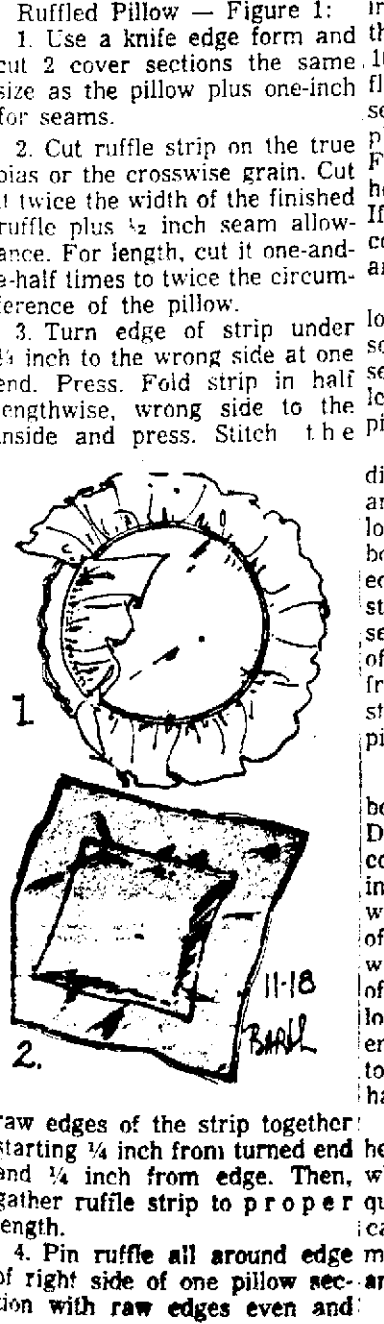

2. Match the center of the pillow and center of each cover section. Pin and stitch the two sections, right sides together, leaving an opening for inserting pillow. Press.

Press seam and clip corners diagonally. Turn to right side and shape corners. Insert pillow, match center markings on both sides and pin. Turn in the edges of the opening and slip stitch closed. Baste the cover sections together along the edge of the pillow an even distance from the edge all around and stitch. Be sure not to catch the pillow when stitching.

Patricia Scott has prepared a booklet, How to Alter Your Dress Patterns, which gives complete instructions for altering so that finished garments will fit perfectly. For your copy of this guide to correct fitting, write to Patricia Scott in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped both to each side of your face envelope and 25 cents in coin. This is especially good for the one to cover cost of printing and handling.

Miss Scott always is glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

THE PONY TAIL

THERE ARE MANY versions of the pony tail and nearly everyone can wear it in some manner, whether long or short. Even though it may not be the most flattering style for you, keep some tricks handy to make your hair look neat and well-groomed rather than hanging like a mop. The pony tail is wonderful to fall back on when your hair goes limp, you are in need of a shampoo, or just in between permanents and can do nothing else with it.

If it is long enough, braid it, let it hang long or swirl it into a chignon. Or, you could separate into two tails and bring long, self-addressed, stamped both to each side of your face envelope and 25 cents in coin. This is especially good for the one to cover cost of printing and handling.

Living Within Income Interest on Auto Loan More Than Payments From Bank

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband and I recently sold some property and will have about $10,000 coming to us. Now the question is, we have about $700 worth of small debts which we intend to clear up. This I am in favor of, but on the next question my husband and I are divided. We bought a new car a year ago and still owe about $2,200 on it. My husband says we should pay this off and bank the rest. But I would rather keep on with the car payments and bank the whole amount.

My reasoning is that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." My husband says "We could put the amount we pay back in the bank, little by little." I think this might be a little harder to do because a person always needs things and when you have the money in your hand it is hard to put it away. What do you think?

Mrs. A.A. H., Amboy, Wash.

Dear Mrs. H.:

Looking at the situation strictly from a money point of view, you're paying out five and one-half to eight per cent in interest on the car. If you bank the entire $10,000, your money will earn, say, four per cent. So you're putting out more than you will be taking in.

I grant you the human instinct is to spend rather than save. And very likely you wouldn't put an amount equal to the car payments into your savings account regularly. But even if you pay off the $2,200 in one swoop, plus the $700 in small debts, you still have better than $7,000 to stash away. That's not a bad emergency fund.

Of course, if you could make that $10,000 earn more interest than you're paying on the car, the answer would be simple—invest the $10,000 and keep on with your car payments. But you can hardly expect that kind of guaranty on any investment.

Since you aren't going to be too bad off financially either way you decide, my observation is: marital harmony is your most important consideration. If this matter has become a real bone of contention, one of you should give in. And which one? Well, you know which of you has the greatest capacity for stubbornness! For thousands of years it has proved a pretty good rule to let the man be the head of the house.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am 12-years-old and in the eighth grade. I have a good voice, and like to listen to the radio, because I love to sing along with the records.

I'd like to be a singer and a recording star when I get older. But I would very much like to get started now. Could you please give me some advice on how I can get started now?

Pat, Rosford, Ohio

Dear Pat:

I'm all for knowing what you want to do and going after it.

Talked your situation over with one of the finest music schools in the country and their advice is this: Don't rush into training. There's such a thing as injuring your voice by putting too much strain on it too early.

However, this school and no doubt others around the country offer an advisory course especially geared to young students. This offers an opportunity to find out whether you really do have a talent worth developing, yet it doesn't permit young people to mis-use their voices. Just to give you an idea of what such preliminary training might cost, the course is $90 a year, or 45 a semester, for one hour a week.

Why don't you ask the music teacher at your own school if she can help you locate a music school in your area that might provide such a study course? Or perhaps a local voice teacher might steer you in the right direction.

In the meantime, maybe you'd better be saving your allowance for bigger things ahead. Good luck to you.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have $1,200 in series E bonds and want to have them converted to a series H bond. Where can I have this done? Banks in our area tell me they do not sell bonds.

Also, what would be the interest on a series H bond? The interest would help supplement my Social Security check when I am ready for it.

Mrs. M.G. LaGrange Park, Ill.

Dear Mrs. G.:

Any Federal Reserve bank will on request, give you an application for transfer of your E bonds. Keep one copy of the application, and send the original application to the office of the United States Treasury. The Treasury will in turn forward the H bond to you.

Both E and H bonds pay off at the same rate of interest—three and three-fourths per cent a year over the lifetime of the bonds. H bonds, however, pay a lower interest rate on the first three semi-annual checks (two and one-half per cent), then start paying four per cent a year and continue at this rate for the balance of their lifetime.

I agree that converting your E bonds makes sense. The interest received semi-annually when you retire will be a nice addition to your Social Security.

(You can write Mary Feeley in care of this newspaper. She will reply in her column to questions of widest interest.)

U. S. Foreign Policy Said to Be Floundering

American Program Abroad Is Not Charted Clearly

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — American foreign policy is floundering because of a lack of understanding of the responsibility of the president and the congress, respectively, in the field of foreign relations. The Constitution gives the president the right to carry on negotiations and make agreements with other countries but gives to Congress the right to appropriate any money needed to carry out foreign policy.

Mr. Kennedy is complaining that Congress is interfering with the conduct of foreign policy because it wants to cut down "foreign aid" appropriations or impose limitations or conditions on how the money should be spent. The president said in his news conference on Thursday: "This program (foreign aid) is essential to the conduct of our foreign policy, and, therefore, I am asking the Congress of the United States to give me the means of conducting the foreign policy of the United States, and if they do not want to do so, then they should recognize that they are severely limiting my ability to protect the interests. That is how important I think this program is."

Untidy World
"I think it is a very dangerous, untidy world, but we're going to have to live with it, and I think one of the ways to live with it is to permit us to function. Then, if we don't function, the voters will throw us out. But don't make it impossible for us to function by legislative restraints or inadequate appropriations."

Mr. Kennedy's words come at a time when the conduct of foreign policy by the United States is largely opportunistic. The course has not been charted clearly, and the policies vary in different parts of the world. Only a few weeks ago, the American people were assured that the signing of the nuclear test-ban treaty meant a new era in the relations of this country with Russia. Since that time, the Soviets have started provocative procedures on the autobahn in and around Berlin as American armored vehicles have been stopped in their lawful trips to the city of Berlin conducted according to World War II agreements.

Irritation Signs
Instead of a peaceful relationship, there now are signs of irritation on both sides. Within the last few days, a Yale professor, Frederick C. Barghoorn, has been arrested in the Soviet Union and charged with espionage. Formal protests were promptly made by the United States. President Kennedy publicly has started that Mr. Barghoorn "was not on an intelligence mission of any kind."

As a consequence of the development of an atmosphere of friction between the two countries, President Kennedy found himself puzzled by the Soviet course. He was asked at his news conference whether the Soviets may be seizing innocent Americans "with the hope of somehow extracting political concessions from us."

He replied:
Denies Success
"Obviously, they would not be successful. I wouldn't attempt to make a judgment as to the conduct of the Soviet Union or what may motivate it from week to week, day to day, but I am certain — it is quite obvious that if it is based on the presumptions you state, that it will not be successful."

Mr. Kennedy was asked, of course, about the wheat deal. He promptly insisted that it was not affected by the general situation and "pretty much stands on its own." Yet this is the very thing that upsets many members of Congress. They feel the United States should not be doing things for Russia without getting better treatment in all its relationships.

At times Mr. Kennedy gives the impression that the foreign-aid program is a one-way street and that the United States would be making a mistake to insist upon any conditions when it gives away taxpayers' money. This, however, tends to encourage the smaller countries to play Russia against the United States, which also is one of the factors that militates against the coincidence that the Red Chinese foreign-aid program.

What is most disturbing at the moment is that, despite every effort on the part of this country to establish friendly relations with the Soviet Union, there is no reciprocation by the Moscow government. The state department, of course, has felt all the talk of peaceful relations between the two countries, that the sources of friction have by the Cultural - Exchange Program, negotiations for the renewal of which were scheduled to begin next Tuesday. Like a wise, restrictions on the travel in the United States by Soviet-bloc diplomats have been made. The president points out that the Soviet Union keeps 26 per cent of its area "off limits" to some part of the world — which the United States and that this would possibly reach the same percentage. It seems to be more than a

Chamber Group To Aid Planning

Downtown Tomorrow Committee Will be Advisors to City

The Appleton Plan Commission today recommended designation of the Downtown Tomorrow Committee, an arm of the Chamber of Commerce, as a citizens' advisory group for implementing the city's future comprehensive plan (CP).

It was indicated that more than one citizens' committee would eventually be appointed to assist city officials in their deliberations once the plan is completed and before the council for adoption.

City Planner Walter Rasmussen informed the commission today that the plan, which will take two years to complete, will cost an estimated $96,000, with the state-federal governments picking up two-thirds of the cost. The CP will consist of several phases.

Extensive Plan

Rasmusen said he will meet with representatives of the Wisconsin Resource Development Department in the near future to obtain final approval of the city's plan to contract a St. Louis firm to prepare the extensive plan for the entire city.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell said citizens representing all sections of the community should be considered for membership on advisory committees. The commission said there would be more than one committee.

Mitchell will make the committee appointments.

In the case of the Chamber group, it is interested primarily in that phase of the CP relating to the downtown area.

It was disclosed the consulting firm preparing the plan will be advised there is urgency in getting at the downtown phase of the plan.

$12,000 Cost

A complete study of the business district will cost an estimated $12,000, which is included in the CP requirements. There will also be a major traffic study costing $39,000, something the city must have to be eligible for road aids in 1965.

The request that the Downtown Tomorrow Committee serve as one of the advisory groups on the comprehensive plan was sent the commission by V. I. Minahan, who previously talked to the common council on the matter at one of its meetings.

In other action, the commission:

Set Dec. 2 as the date for a public hearing on the request to change from multiple to single family residential land in the area of Owaissa, Opechee, Lemnawh Streets and Green Bay Road. The rezoning has been objected to by Clarence Kramlich. Last summer the property was rezoned from single residential to multiple family.

Denied rezoning from residential to commercial a portion of land owned by Percy Menning east of North Drew Street, between Northland Avenue and E. First Street extended.

Nelson said the project was begun in July. He said only minor seeding of the shoulders needs to be completed before the project is entirely finished.

UW Dean Speaks at School Dedication

Stiles Says Kimberly's New High School Is a 'Bargain'

KIMBERLY — "People achieve their noblest stature when they join together to erect a church or school," said Lindley Stiles.

The program opened with selections by the Kimberly High School band under the direction of Gordon Kotlosky. The Rev. Joseph Kools, pastor of Holy Name Catholic Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Harold Wentzel, president of the board of education, told of the planning which went into the building of the school, named past board members who played important roles in its development and pointed out progress of education in the village. He said the atmosphere of the building was designed to meet the challenges of education today.

Widespread Interest

Ray Hamann, superintendent of schools, told of the interest in the school from all over North America and indicated more interest would be generated with in the next year. He pointed to the many areas of the school which add to the educational value and potential of the building and introduced various dignitaries responsible for its construction.

Darrell Larson, principal, stated, "It will take the inspiration, leadership and dedication of parents and teachers to make the educational facility a success."

George Sylvester, president of the student council, thanked the school board and others responsible for the building and promised the student body would do everything possible to show their appreciation for the structure.

It was estimated 5,000 people visited the school and viewed facilities Sunday.

which picked up the "loose ends" will now go to the Senate and if passed there will go to Gov. Reynolds for his approval.

The presumption is that the governor will veto the first bill, introduced in the Senate last week by Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Black Creek, and be asked to approve the revised legislation as introduced in the Assembly by Froehlich.

Today's Assembly action was conducted without debate. The bill was expedited to the Senate, with action expected later in the afternoon.

Earlier, Mayor Clarence Mitchell sent a telegram to Gov. Reynolds asking he not veto any legislation on the water pipeline until giving Appleton officials an opportunity to state the city's position.

Mitchell indicated shortly before noon he and other city officials were pleased with the Froehlich bill which appeared to be satisfactory to all concerned.

PSC Authorizes Increased Water Rates for Kaukauna

Plant Expansion, Improvements Boost Utility's Revenue Needs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Increased operating costs of the Kaukauna public water utility resulting from plant expansions and improvements of service in recent years require higher revenues, the Public Service Commission said Saturday in authorizing an upward revision of the city's water rate schedule.

The commission authorized an increase in revenues of $27,519 yearly.

The state regulatory agency explained that transmission and distribution expenses have varied from year to year and that it had struck an average in computing income requirements.

The new revenue total will return 5.5 per cent a year on rate base, it was said.

Utility Rate Base

The utility rate base was set at $681,803. Present level of operating expenses is about $39,500. There are other fixed charges taken into account in rate making.

The total revenue requirement of the utility is $115,084 a year, of which $30,111 will be charged against the city for public fire protection service. Water utility customers will pay $81.73, or $17.79 more than they are now paying annually.

The last previous revision of rates at Kaukauna was in 1957. Since that time an additional well, pump house, and other equipment has been added to the plant. Iron removal equipment has been provided and water main extensions have been made to accommodate the growth of the community.

Appleton Man Hurt in Car Crash Near Kellnersville

MANITOWOC — An Appleton man was in Holy Family Hospital here today with injuries he suffered in a one-car crash near Kellnersville Saturday night.

Authorities said Leroy M. Verkuilen, 25, 1118 Franklin St., apparently failed to negotiate a curve at the junction of County Trunk A and a town road about 11:30 p.m.

They said his 1964 compact convertible careened off the highway, plowed into a ditch and snapped off a utility pole. The impact of the crash popped the headlights out of their sockets.

Verkuilen was alone at the time of the mishap. Hospital officials said he suffered a possible broken jaw and a large cut on his neck.

High School Selected for Shelter Study

Civil Defense Will Make Analysis of New Kimberly Unit

The new Kimberly High School has been selected by the Department of Civil Defense as one of nine schools throughout the nation to be analyzed for a report on how schools can be adapted to use as fallout shelters.

The case study report will be published in December and distributed nationally to Civil Defense personnel.

Warren Weller, a Washington, D.C., architect who is preparing the report, visited with Robert Sauter and Ben Seaborne, architects for the Kimberly High School, Friday.

Original Report

The architects prepared an original report on the school for the Navy, which is working with the Defense Department on the study, and the school was selected as one of the nine to be analyzed in the national study.

The $2.1 million school was opened this fall and dedicated Sunday.

The compact design of the school and the use of considerable concrete framing in its construction lends it to use as a shelter, Seaborne said. The building can shelter about 1,500 persons, he said, noting that it is a self-contained building with its own water supply.

The school board was interested in considering the school for use as a shelter, Seaborne said, and although the design was not primarily slanted in that direction, it does lend itself to this use, he said.

Businessmen, Teachers Talk of Help for Schools

Appleton Credit Exchange members invited business and economics teachers from Appleton schools to their monthly supper meeting for the first time in local history.

The purpose of meeting was to discuss possible ways in which business could help the schools.

President William Farnum welcomed Francis Moran, Xavier High School boys' department; Elmer Miller, Appleton Vocational and Adult School; James Kissing, Appleton High School, and Miss Colleen Hyden, Xavier girls' department.

The teachers described the courses and subject matter available in their schools and problems encountered.

Ways considered in which businesses might help the schools were providing informational materials, sending classroom speakers to dramatize practical applications of the subjects being studied, and permitting students to see backstage business operations and discuss vocational requirements.

The Credit Exchange invited the teachers to forward other suggestions or inquire for special information when needed.

Mitchell Urges Parking Authority

Mayor Dedicates Ramps, Seeks Public Support for New Agency

Creation of a city parking authority and utility was urged Sunday afternoon by Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell as he dedicated the city's two new parking ramps.

The ceremonies for the two ramps costing a total of $900,000 were held at the last to be completed, the East Ramp on E. Washington Street.

Mitchell urged public support for a resolution co-authored by Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) and Robert Stumpf (9th) calling for creation of the parking authority.

Public Support

"The public safety committee can no longer handle Appleton's parking operations. I recommend that this proposed utility be responsible for rate structures and have full responsibility for city parking. All public-spirited citizens should support this program."

Mitchell pointed to increased revenues each year in the city's self-supporting parking program which now has 1,200 off-street spaces. "There is over $1.5 million in real value in our parking program," he said, "with only $600,000 indebtedness. This will be paid off in six years."

While presenting a "Project 70" plaque to Mitchell for the city, Chamber of Commerce president Gus Zuehlke pledged support for the parking authority plan.

Praises Mitchell

Calling the ramps "modern, functional and beautiful," Zuehlke praised Mitchell and the city's alderman for their foresight in providing parking space.

Ald. Harold Hannemann (10th) praised Mitchell for "doing more than anyone to make the city's parking ramp plans a reality."

Hannemann said there was widespread opposition to the plans when they were introduced to the city council in 1959. "But joint cooperation and willingness to solve the problem by the council and the mayor made these ramps a reality. We are certain that this is the right road of progress," he said.

Mitchell was assisted by Stumpf, former chairman of the public safety committee, and Ald. Gerald Wagner, present chairman, in cutting the ribbon.

Master of Ceremonies

Others taking part in the ceremonies were Roger LaBerge, sealer of weights and measures, who was master of ceremonies; W. T. Collings, of Collings Engineers, Inc., Milwaukee, designers and consultants for the ramps; the Rev. Brian Coleman, assistant pastor of St. Therese Catholic Church, who gave the invocation, and the Rev. Leonard A. Zeimer, pastor of First English Lutheran Church, who gave the benediction.

The East Ramp, built for approximately $500,000, has a 430 car capacity. The West Ramp, with a 250 car capacity, cost approximately $400,000.

210 More Cars

The East Ramp can be expanded to an additional level over each of the two upper levels to accommodate 210 more cars. The West Ramp can be expanded to a third level which will accommodate 120 additional cars.

Contractors for the East Ramp were Fluor Brothers Construction Co., R. Wenzel Plumbing and Heating Co., Langstadt, Inc. and Bassett Refrigeration Co. Inc.

West Ramp contractors were Meyer Corp., Neenah, Superior Electric Co. and R. Selig and Sons, Inc.

Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell was assisted by the present and past chairmen of the city council's public safety committee in ribbon cutting ceremonies Sunday at the city's new parking ramp on E. Washington St. To Mitchell's left is Ald. Gerald Wagner, the present chairman, and to his right is Ald. Robert Stumpf, past chairman. Ike Urges a Cutback in Europe Troops

Significance of Presence Noted As 'Not Great'

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: TROOP CUTBACK. Calling their present significance "not great" former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged a gradual cutback of U.S. ground troops in Europe that would eventually bring back five of six combat divisions home.

In an interview taped for Sunday's ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers," Eisenhower added that the situation has changed since 1951, when the United States started to build up its military strength in Europe.

"Economies in Western Europe are now strong, they have great balances, many of them, in gold and it is time they were doing more of their work," he added.

OTEPKA. The dismissal of State Department official Otto F. Otepka has brought a charge from Sen. Strom Thurmond that the former security officer was "railroaded with methods characteristic of a police state."

In his weekly newsletter to constituents Sunday, the South Carolina Democrat said Otepka was dismissed because he told the truth to a Senate subcommittee.

In announcing his dismissal, the State Department said Otepka gave classified personnel file material to a subcommittee investigator.

"By telling the truth to a Senate committee," Thurmond said, "Mr. Otepka put his honor and loyalty to his country above 'institutional loyalty'—that is loyalty to the State Department."

TO THE MOON: The Rev. Francis J. Hevden, S.J., director of Georgetown University's astronomical observatory, has urged continuation of the American effort to reach the moon.

In a statement Saturday, the noted Jesuit astronomer said that a successful trip would more than pay for itself by advancing scientific knowledge.

2 Negroes Will Begin Supervisory Jobs for AMC

KENOSHA (AP)—Two Negroes were picked to begin work in supervisory jobs at the American Motors Corp. plant here today.

The new supervisors are Albus Gladney Jr., of Kenosha, in the cylinder head department, and Addison Frierson of Waukegan, Ill., trim department.

The appointment of Gladney was announced by an AMC spokesman Sunday. The selection of Frierson was announced Saturday.

Walter Vaughn, an AMC employee and chairman of the Kenosha United Auto Workers fair employment practice committee, had said Friday a chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) would be formed to push for the advancement of Negro employees at AMC. About 2,000 of the 14,000 workers in the Kenosha plant are Negroes, but until this weekend none of the Negroes held supervisory posts.

The CORE chapter was organized Sunday with Vaughn named temporary chairman. About 50 persons attending the meeting heard comments from John Givens, chairman of the Milwaukee CORE chapter.

Prohibition Ends After 80 Years For Cornish Town

DOBWALLS, England (AP)—Eighty years of prohibition—unofficial but effective—ended today for this Cornish village with the opening of the Highway Inn.

The village's Baptist chapel bought the only pub in the 1880s and closed it. Since then, the 200 villagers have had to travel three miles to buy a drink.

Despite 40 objections, the Dobwalls magistrates issued a license for the new pub.

Home From Russia, Barghoorn Wants Quiet, Time for Book

BY THOMAS M. STEWART

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—"I'm working on my book and I hope I'll have a period of quiet after this," says Frederick C. Barghoorn, home from the Soviet Union where he was jailed as a spy.

Arrested Oct. 21 on an espionage charge, the 52-year-old Yale professor was imprisoned in Moscow until Saturday.

Then the Soviet Union, citing the personal concern expressed by President Kennedy, announced it was expelling Barghoorn. He was hustled aboard an airliner and flown to London. Sunday a second flight carried him to New York and a chartered plane brought him to New Haven.

With Mother

He was taken to the apartment of Mrs. Elizabeth Barghoorn, his 80-year-old mother. Barghoorn, a bachelor, lives next door.

At a news conference Sunday night, Barghoorn read a statement about "my unpleasant experience."

He allowed only a few minutes of questions. He refused to answer, or replied cautiously, to questions about details of his arrest, confinement and release. He said he would withhold a number of details "until I have had an opportunity to fully acquaint myself with the views and information of the appropriate officials in Washington."

Accused by Reds

The Russians, Barghoorn said, accused him of gathering intelligence during his employment in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in the 1940s and on six trips he has made to the Soviet Union since 1947. Soviet studies are Barghoorn's specialty as a professor of political science. He has written several books on the Soviet Union and was gathering material for another when he was arrested.

Public Opinion

They knew he was going to try and determine how public opinion is formed in the Soviet Union, Barghoorn said, and could have refused him a visa.

"There are many inexplicable and mysterious aspects of this episode," he said. "I shall probably never know why the Soviet government decided to take an action which by non-Soviet standards was so strange and indeed bizarre."

Barghoorn declined to name the prison in which he was held or to tell almost anything about his experiences as a prisoner. But when asked if he underwent much questioning, he replied "all the time."

Asked about psychological or physical pressures used on him, he answered: "I think that within the terms of their system I was well treated."

On the flight to New York, Barghoorn celebrated with a shot of vodka and some caviar. "I think it all came out for the best," he said during the flight. "I greatly appreciate what President Kennedy has done in my behalf, and I definitely do not intend to reveal details."

Body of Rockford Woman Found in Cooler at Dairy

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A Rockford spinster was found bludgeoned to death Sunday night in a milk cooler of a dairy where she worked as a bookkeeper.

The body of Miss Lenora Lundgren, 44, was found by police after they were alerted by the worried brother of the victim.

Capt. Paul Pirello, of Rockford police, said the brother, Howard Lundgren, related that his sister had left their home early in the afternoon. She left a note saying that she had some work to do at the Kishwaukee Dairy which Lundgren owns.

When Miss Lundgren failed to return home her brother looked for her at the dairy, said Capt. Pirello, but was unable to find her. Lundgren then called police, who located the body.

It was not immediately apparent what was used at the murder weapon, Pirello said.

Pirello said police were questioning a 17-year-old youth.

Five Are Dead Under Age 25; State Toll 786

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Highway accidents in Wisconsin during the weekend and early today claimed the lives of nine persons, five of them under the age of 25. The deaths, and three from earlier accidents, raised the state toll for the year to 786, compared with 838 at this time a year ago.

Lyle Franzen, 21, of Lawler, Iowa, was killed at 3:30 a.m. today when the car he was driving and a semi trailer truck collided headon on Highway 11 about 2 1/2 miles west of Gratiot.

Mrs. Elizabeth Washa, 42, of rural Muskego, was killed and her husband and two daughters injured critically in the collision of the family car and another auto early Sunday morning at the intersection of Highway 131 and Beloit Road in Waukesha County.

Car Hits Tree

Patricia Grimstvedt, 22, of Cumberland died Saturday night when an imported car struck a tree near the crossing of Highway 70 and Washburn County Trunk M about 10 miles east of Spooner. Her sister, Donna, 19, was injured seriously. Authorities were unable to learn which girl was driving.

Gregory Dolenshek, 16, of West Allis was killed Sunday when the truck he was driving overturned after leaving Adams County Trunk C in the extreme northeast corner of the county. The youth was thrown from the truck, which rolled over him.

Chester Stickney, 17, of rural Sparta, died in a hospital in Sparta Saturday night of injuries received earlier in the day when he fell from a tractor and was run over by a spreader it was towing. The tractor was driven by Marvin Isensee, 14, of whose farm Stickney had been working. The mishap occurred on County Trunk Q about nine miles north of Sparta.

Pedestrian Death

William Pingle, 70, a resident of the Winnebago County home, was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a car as he walked on Highway 41 about three miles northwest of Oshkosh.

Roy Betterly, 74, of New Richmond, died Saturday of injuries received in a two-car crash on Highway 63 about four miles north of Baldwin.

Weekend victims listed earlier were Dennis Loew, 17, of Bloomer, and Mrs. Mary Anne Donovan, 29, of rural Antioch, Ill.

Dennis Posz, 22, of Hudson, died during the weekend of injuries received Friday when his car skidded on a frost covered bridge near Hudson.

Ronald Wilkes, 36, of Belvidere, Ill., died Sunday in an Eau Claire hospital of injuries received in the Oct. 18 collision of two trucks on Highway 12 just east of Eau Claire. His death was the second resulting from the crash.

Proxmire Hits Grain Shipments In Foreign Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire challenged the legality today of permitting grain shipments to Hungary to be carried entirely by foreign flag ships.

The Wisconsin Democrat said this gave "discriminating, preferred treatment to the Communist government of Hungary."

In a letter to Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, he said that the Maritime Administration apparently has ruled that none of the grain needs to be carried by American vessels.

"This decision is contrary to our national interests, to both law and custom," Proxmire protested. "It hurts our balance of payments position. It deprives Americans of jobs they need."

Proxmire maintained that at least half the corn being sold to Hungary should be carried by American ships since the purchase is being financed with a loan guaranteed by the Export-Import Bank.

Youth Sells Misprint Stamps for $10,400

NEW YORK (AP)—A college student has assured the fi- nance of his education by selling 50 misprinted United Nations postage stamps for $10,400.

The unidentified Bronx youth purchased 50 of the misprints by the U.S. Post Office Department for $2 on the first day of their issue, Feb. 28, 1962. Several weeks ago, he sold them to a wholesale stamp dealer Julius Stalow of J. & H. Stalow, Ind. for $208 each.

Stalow said Sunday the young man "knew right away what he had" when he returned home from the U.N. with the stamps. The misprinted stamps commemorate the U.N.'s housing and community facilities. But they are minus the black-ink law and custom. Proxmire printed words "Housing and community facilities," which he should be cornered on the left across the top.

Set Up Work Unit For Bridge Project

State May Include Accessways In Butte des Morts Project

MENASHA — The most important phase so far in possible construction of a bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts in Menasha will take place Tuesday when the State Highway Commission organizes a committee to begin an actual working program for the project.

According to Leroy Empey, district engineer at Green Bay, the bridge project will most likely be a package deal with accessways proposed by the Fox Valley Planning Commission.

He announced that plans by the planning commission have been accepted. He will travel to day when the State Highway Commission organizes a committee to begin an actual working program for the project.

Empey said the various responsibilities in construction will be delegated and a working program set up.

The final decision on constructing the bridge will be made by the highway commissioners.

Harvey Grasse, chairman of the commission, last week indicated prospects for the bridge are good.

Reynolds Says State Official Still on Payroll

Fired Savings and Loan Head Employed Under Civil Service

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—The chief of the State Savings and Loan Department was fired last week by Gov. John Reynolds, will continue on the state payroll in a subordinate civil service capacity, the governor disclosed today.

The governor reported the decision at a news conference in an apparent effort to moderate his previously publicized position about the involvement of public officials in the shares of the Mortgage Guarantee Insurance Co.

Reynolds said he is making a "study" of possible conflicts of interest by state officers and employees while declaring he is confident the traditionally high standards of Wisconsin public service ethics are not weakening. He said he doesn't like the word "investigation" because it may imply criminal violations of law.

No Crime

In announcing that Roman Winkowski, the discharged savings and loan department director, whose resignation was demanded and accepted last Friday will be kept on the state payroll, Reynolds explained he was not accused of any crime.

Winkowski was fired after it was disclosed he had held some shares of MGIC for a few days and then sold them at a substantial profit. MGIC does most of its business with local savings and loans associations in the country.

The governor declined comment when he was asked about his reaction to earlier reports Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay, Republican, acquired MGIC stock after he had intercepted for the Wisconsin-based firm which wanted a tax ruling from the federal government.

Byrnes' Record

"The record of Mr. Byrnes is well-known to his constituents. It's our business here to run the state government on the issues," he replied briefly to a reporter's questions.

Reynolds said he is interested in putting into a formal code some standards of financial conduct for public officers, but he said he supposed composing such a document would be difficult. But he added a man gives up some privileges when he enters public service and some forms of investment are among them.

The governor said he has been disturbed to learn the law requires him to name a new savings and loan director from within the trade.

From Industry

"He must come from the industry and most of the time he goes back to it when his term expires," he said. "He is not in an independent position to regulate," he complained. He said he may seek a change in the law.

The governor also grumbled that Assemblyman Mc Kay of Ozaukee County, assistant GOP leader of the Assembly, last week foiled his plan to build four new infirmaries for mentally retarded near Madison by getting other Republicans on the state building commission to support him in cutting the construction project to two additional units.

The governor said he will continue to make a public fight for four buildings as earlier endorsed by the commission and desired by the public welfare department which had bids on file for the original construction plan when Mc Kay moved to halve it.

Quaker Dairy Asks Revision Of Milk Cooling Ordinance

Opposition to a milk cooling ordinance now before the Appleton City Council, has been expressed by the Quaker Dairy Co., Appleton.

Main point of the opposition is the word "mechanically." The dairy company objects, it says, because of "the vagueness of the meaning of the term."

The ordinance states that as of July 1, 1964 all milk will be "mechanically cooled to a temperature of 40 degrees Fahrenheit or lower."

Many secondary types of refrigeration are included under the classification of mechanical, the dairy said. Some of the secondary types are presently being used in the grade A markets in the state with success, they said.

Definition Requested

The dairy requested that a more specific definition of mechanical be included in the ordinance since some secondary types of refrigeration are included under the classification of mechanical.

They also proposed a 60-day

State Justice Lauds Court Reorganization

Horace W. Wilkie Calls Program Best Since 1848

"The 1962 court reorganization enacted by the legislature has been the greatest development in improving the judiciary since the state was founded in 1848," Justice Horace W. Wilkie of the Wisconsin Supreme Court said this noon in a speech before the Appleton Lions Club.

Justice Wilkie said the reorganization, aimed at making the courts uniform and speeding up their handling of cases, has largely achieved its goals.

"The justices of the peace have been almost totally removed from litigation and we now have just two basic trial courts—the county court and the circuit court. Backlogs of cases piled up mostly in our metropolitan counties have been diminished," Wilkie said.

Cut Delay

"Our goal is to eliminate delay in the handling of cases and to give every litigant top notch judges to preside over their cases. Under court reorganization, we have made giant strides in this direction," he said.

Justice Wilkie called for two further improvements in court administration. He urged the Wisconsin court system be fully financed and controlled by the state government. Wilkie noted this, held each year, where all the costs of Supreme and circuit courts have always been fully absorbed by the state.

"Under court reorganization, one-half of the salaries of county judges is now absorbed by the

In Two Counties

Weather Balloon Falls From Space

Portions of a weather balloon fell into two counties about 9 a.m. today.

A plastic transparent balloon measuring about 268 feet by 180 feet fell in the front yard of the Dale Bergner home, 618 E. Harding St., Appleton, and a silk, orange parachute fell across the railroad tracks near Waverly Beach in Calumet County a few moments later.

Mrs. Bergner said the balloon landed on the front lawn while her husband was taking the children to school. She said there was what appeared to be an instrument package under the balloon.

Radioactivity
Sheriff Calvin Spice, Outagamie County Traffic Sgt. George Else, as well as being a member of the Civil Air Patrol, along with Civil Defense Director Lee Penney, and Appleton police examined the balloon and checked it for possible radioactivity. Later the three went to Calumet County when sheriff's authorities there reported the parachute had been found. With the chute was a 500 pound package containing high altitude weather instruments.

Part of Project
Spice said the balloon and parachute are part of a weather and John Gryskow, photos, Greg Elk and Norm Getchel; parking, Elmer MacDonald and Ed Kietz; catering, Ed Writz; decorations, William Pelles and Joe Mierswa, Jr.; fourth degree, Carl Mendleski and William Schaefer; registration, Ray Brandenstein; and publicity, Bob Lipinski.

Report Theft at Bridgewood Club

NEENAH — Neenah police today reported the pro shop and bar at the Bridgewood Golf Course were entered late last week and the thief made off with cartons of cigarettes, candy bars and a six pack of beer.

Bridges reported that the thieves entered the pro shop first and then forced entry through a door into the barroom.

The balloon and parachute were separated by radio control over Appleton after the instruments had risen to as high as 98,000 feet in the stratosphere. The project was being conducted to check moisture content in the atmosphere.

The recovery crew has picked up the instrument package and will return them to South Dakota.

Vegetable Salad Is Result of Truck Accident

Vegetable salad was the result to an accident Sunday night on County Trunk Highway A at State 47 when a truck load of cranberries and cabbages spilled across the roadway when a trailer truck overturned.

County police said the driver of the truck, LaVerne Carter, 39, Marion, Ill., escaped serious injury. It took almost four hours to clean up the accident scene.

Carter said he was driving south on 47 when he applied his brakes near the intersection with CTH A. The trailer began to "jackknife," Carter said. It overturned, spilling its contents on the road. The cab of the truck went into a ditch. The accident occurred about 11 p.m.

Strong Stuff Brewing for Outer Limits

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) The Outer Limits has an imaginative, horrifying outing called "Corpus Earthling," based on a novel by Louis Charbonneau, about a pair of rocks that are really intelligent super-viruses. They become gelatinous masses that slither onto a human to create a zombie with a tiny voice. This one may be too strong for children with vivid imaginations or adults with weak stomachs.

6:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) "The Reluctant Debutante," a less-than-successful movie adaptation of a very funny English play, is on Monday Night at the Movies. (Color)

Many Mansions Would Go

Beverly Hills Residents Fear Thought of Freeway

BY DIAL TORGERSOON

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Actor Clifton Webb gazed at his sprawling, Mediterranean-pink adobe mansion, and wondered what it would look like with a freeway running over the top of it.

Said Webb: "No one ever thought it could happen here."

But it could, and it might. In all this city's Mediterranean-pink mansions—not to mention the glass-walled moderns, the French provincials and the Williamsburg colonials—there is a name to conjure fear.

Freeway
The Beverly Hills Freeway. The state has two freeways—one of which happened years ago to Hollywood, and the other which happened recently to West Los Angeles. It wants to link them so people can get from West Los Angeles to Hollywood.

To connect them, freeway builders announced that they planned the Beverly Hills Freeway—multiple lanes speeding traffic swiftly and smoothly through the sovereign city of Beverly Hills.

Then came a howl of complaints.

Protest Meetings
Rosalind Russell and Lucille Ball went to protest meetings. Novelist Irving Stone wrote fund-raising letters for the freeway fighters. The anti-freeway Beverly Hills Improvement Association raised $60,000 almost instantly.

Residents of the hill section of Beverly Hills—which is, truly, one of the nation's loveliest residential areas—have decided unanimously that the best place for the freeway is a mile south, under Santa Monica Boulevard.

As Rosalind Russell explains it:

"It's called cut and cover, I believe. They cut out the space, put the freeway in it, and cover it over. And there would be no offramps, or onramps. Sort of like a tunnel, you might say."

Exactly like a tunnel, to be precise.

Payment Planned
The Beverly Hills Improvement Association wants this cut-and-cover freeway tunneled through the business part of the city, from which neither fume nor commuter could presumably escape.

"There's no question but what a freeway is needed," said Miss Russell. "But they would not have to have offramps. It would only go through Beverly Hills for a mile and a quarter. People

Tunnel
The exact route through Beverly Hills won't be selected until perhaps January, and the freeway itself probably won't be built for 10 years.

The state plans, of course, to pay for any property condemned. The homes in the hillside area, where the proposed route runs, would cost an estimated $250,000 each.

Meantime, the state has to send delegates to each protest meeting to listen to the opinions of people who fear a freeway would harm Beverly Hills.

Bears Rout Packers, Take Western Lead

Intercept 5 Passes in 26-7 Victory; Leclerc
Kicks 4 Field Goals

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

CHICAGO — The Bears played a tremendous game of football in Wrigley field Not so the Packers.

The Bears had to be great to defeat the proud and powerful world champions with first place at stake and they were just that.

The unforgettable final score was 26 to 7. The Bears scored 13 points the first three times they had their hands on the ball and that's all they needed — it turned out.

It was 26-0 when Tom Moore raced 16 yards for the Packers' only touchdown with 4:10 left in the game. It looked good up there on the board but the Bears had it won.

Now the Packers need help to repeat as Western Division champions. The Bears have 9-1, with four games left — Steelers, Vikings, 49ers and Lions. The Packers have 8-2 and finish against the 49ers (in Milwaukee next Sunday), the Lions, Rams and 49ers.

The Packers must win all four ... and hope.

The Bears, who have handed the Packers their only two losses this league season, were superior — charged Sunday (perhaps like the Lions last Thanksgiving Day) and the crowd of 49,166 was electric in its response to the Bears' fierce play.

The Packers never really got started offensively. They were held to 158 yards rushing and passing until the 80-yard TD drive near the end. They reached into Bear territory five times.

Fullback Jim Brown, who became the NFL's all-time ground gaining leader, blasted for 59 yards and touchdown on the second play of the contest. That finished the Clevelanders' scoring until the last four minutes when Jim Ninowski hit Ernie Green with a 15-yard touchdown pass.

In between, however, Johnson hit Sonny Randle with a 41-yard scoring pass and tossed a 19-yarder to Bill Triplett, while Bakken contributed field goals of 42 and 9 yards.

The loss was the third in the last four games for Cleveland after the Browns had broken away to a two-game lead by winning the first six. They are now tied with the Cardinals at 7-3, one game back of New York.

Cleveland shifted to substitute quarterback Ninowski Sunday and he completed 15 of 28 for 145 yards and one touchdown. His performance was puny compared to Johnson, who completed 25 of 34 for 278 yards.

Billy Joe Conrad, the league's leading receiver, caught five passes for 59 yards, giving him 52 receptions and 636 yards for the season.

Brown, in addition to his 59-yard touchdown run, carried 11 other times for a 154-yard total and now has 1,447 yards in 204 attempts — almost double his nearest competitor. The big fullback also caught two passes for 21 yards and his 175 total for the day boosted his career gains in all categories to 11,374 yards to surpass the league record of 11,317 set by Ollie Matson.

'They Just Didn't Make Any Mistakes,' Claims Bays' Fuzzy Thurston

Post-Crescent News Service

CHICAGO — The crestfallen Packers were, understandably, men of few words in the wake of Sunday's 26-7 stunning at the hands of their erstwhile "cousins," the suddenly obstreperous Bears.

Like their leader, Vince Lombardi, they offered no alibis.

Mountainous Jerry Kramer, whose talented toe was required only once during the course of a long afternoon, in the Pack's quiet dressing room quarters summed up the situation succinctly. "They wanted the ball real bad," he said.

"And I guess we didn't want it bad," he said.

"And I guess we didn't want it badly enough," the National Football League's premier field goal kicker appended, shaking his head wistfully. "I don't know ... I really don't know what to say."

His fellow "Guardian Angel," Fuzzy Thurston, who with Kramer had helped engineer eight straight victories over the Bears before lighting struck twice this autumn, advanced another point.

"I don't think they were that high. They just didn't make any mistakes, that's all," the pride of Altoona, Wis., confided matter-of-factly from his next door locker. "They didn't give up the ball—they didn't have any fun."

Tigers Trade Colavito to Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers traded slugger outfielder Rocky Colavito to the Kansas City Athletics today for star second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham.

The Tigers also threw in relief pitcher Bob Anderson and an unannounced sum of money.

bles or any interceptions. And we," he added dryly, "made some mistakes."

"You can't make mistakes against a good football team and win. Our teams are pretty equal, you know," he concluded soberly. "So you just can't make mistakes. The team that makes the fewest is going to win—it's as simple as that."

A gloomy Henry Jordan, somewhat less loquacious than usual, capsuled the nightmare yet another way. "Bad day at black rock," he sighed. "Both on offense and defense, they were just coming off the ball. And that's the best pass defense I've ever seen the Bears have."

"Today their offensive backs were running just a little harder," he continued, flicking a short jab to underscore his point. "That second effort, you know."

Entire New System of Blocking Was Instrumental in Victory, Halas Says

George Calls 26-7 Win Bears' Greatest Since '46 Title Game

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

CHICAGO — Although still somewhat awed by the manner in which his marauding Chicago Bears had manhandled Green Bay's champion Packers, to the raucous satisfaction of an overflow Wrigley Field house, a transported George Halas nevertheless found voice to pay the monsters of the midway a singular tribute.

After due reflection upon a question from a "natal" press corps, which on this day included high priced word merchants from such points as Washington, New York, Detroit and Nashville, Papa Bear fervently declaimed to his rapt audience. "This is our greatest victory since we beat the Giants for the world championship in 1946."

Great Moment

That, to refresh the memory, was the last world title for the National Football League pioneer and his Bruins, who in the 17 year interim also acquired Western division honors in 1956 under Paddy Driscoll but subsequently suffered a 47-7 drubbing at the hands of those same Giants in the playoff.

Aware that this was a great moment for the hardy 68-year-old perennial, even the Packers' Vince Lombardi could find it in his heart to rejoice for his coaching adversary on what for him had been a bleak afternoon. "I'm real happy for Papa Bear

Lombardi volunteered to reporters. "He's a helluva man." Appraised later of the Packers' chief's sentiments, Halas observed with obvious sincerity, "He's a great man ... that's characteristic of him. I'm not at all surprised."

As for his team, Halas elaborated upon that "great est game" accolade with accustomed zest in the cozy confines of Wrigley Field's "Pink Poodle." He said, "I didn't see how we could do it. To hold a champion in check, to hold a great team like that down the way we did ... After an eloquent shake of the head, he continued, "and to move the ball against their great defense like we did ... I would have to say this was our greatest victory since '46."

Regard for Enemy
Despite abundant regard for the enemy, Halas emphasized his tigers' thoroughgoing 26-7 triumph had hardly been an accident. The Bears' surprising offensive punch (surprising in that the Chicagoans' attacking unit had settled for a mere 6 points against the Rams a week earlier and for just 16 against Philadelphia the week before) had stemmed from "an entire new system of blocking."

George added, "That's the reason they gave Phil Handler (the Bears' veteran offensive line coach) the game ball I was pleased to see them do it — he really cried with joy."

There had been another major item, it also developed. Delving into the inside pocket of his suitcoat, Halas brought forth a typewritten sheet which he dub-

Ballman Scores Key to 34-28 Steeler Victory

92 and 67-Yard Runs Overshadow Snead's Passes to Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers, normally a grind-it-out slowly team on offense, unveiled a new long-range scoring punch — Gary Ballman — in whipping Washington, 34-28, yesterday.

It took an amazing performance by Ballman, mainly used in the past on punt and kickoff returns, to offset a great day by the Redskins' Norman Snead to Bobby Mitchell passing combination.

Ballman scored two strategic touchdowns. The first tied the score at 14-14 late in the second quarter as he outmaneuvered two Washington defenders on a 67-yard pass play.

The second came after Snead field goal try from the 40 to had pitched Washington into a 28-27 lead with less than three minutes left in the game. Ballman grabbed the kickoff, cut to the left sideline, did a little fancy dodging and raced 92 yards to clinch the victory.

Caught 8 Passes

Ballman caught eight passes for 161 yards, but wound up second best to Mitchell, top pass receiver in the National Football League last year, who had his best day of the 1963 season.

Mitchell caught 11 passes for 218 yards and two touchdowns. He was the ringleader in a Redskin offense that all but forgot the ground game.

In winning their sixth game, against three losses and a tie, the Steelers didn't completely toss out their old ball control game. Fullback John Henry Johnson carried 34 times for 101 yards, his longest gain was six yards.

The Win kept Pittsburgh in fourth place in the NFL's Eastern Division race, one-half game behind St. Louis and Cleveland who are tied for second.

Ballman's second run came after Snead had sent the Redskins into a 28-27 lead with a 21-yard pass to Pat Richter. The former Wisconsin end made a great tumbling catch in the end zone.

Snead completed 23 of 40 passes for 424 yards and two touchdowns.

Steelers quarterback Ed Brown passed often enough to keep his offense going, completing 13 of 28 passes for 254 yards.

Lou Michaels missed his first field goal try from the 40 to his string of misses to seven. He then booted two from the 27 and 18.

The game was a thriller from the start, with Redskin Claude Crabb intercepting Brown's first pass of the game and racing it 53 yards for a touchdown.

The Steelers came back with a touchdown late in the quarter with Johnson scoring from the Washington went ahead again on the touchdown pass to Mitchell, but the Steelers tied it on the long throw to Ballman.

Colts Edge Vikings On Unitas' TD Pass In Final Five Seconds

Orr and Berry Make Key Grabs In 37-34 Win

BY LEW FERGUSON

MINNEAPOLIS-St. Paul (AP) — Johnny Unitas fired a 13-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Orr quarter, but the Vikings stormed with five seconds left as Baltimore snatched a 37-34 victory from Minnesota Sunday in a madcap windup to a National Football League game of rapidly alternating fortunes.

Unitas rallied the Colts on an 88-yard scoring march in the dying seconds. His 45-yard aerial to Ray Berry set up the winning touchdown. Orr raced straight across the goal, then cut to the right corner of the end zone away from Minnesota defender Lee Caidland. Then Unitas, with great protection, fired to Orr.

Baltimore led 16-0 in the first quarter, but the Vikings stormed back to take leads of 27-16 and 34-23.

Unitas' third scoring pass of the day, a 60-yarder to Orr with 3:18 left in the game, pulled the Colts to within 34-30 of the Vikings.

Mason's Best Day
Tommy Mason's best day of the season paced the Viking comeback after the 16-0 deficit. Mason caught a 21-yard touchdown pass from Fran Tarkenton, raced 70 yards for another and finished with 146 yards rushing on 12 carries. Minnesota took the lead for the first time on the third play of the second half when Tarkenton hit Mason on the 21-yard line. The Vikings raised it to 27-16 early in the final quarter when Tom Wilson raced 30 yards up the middle. Mason's 70-yard romp made it 34-23.

The Bears were gaining up the middle and on wide plays. They broke many a tackle and occasionally ran over a Packer or two.

two key tackles and Le Clerc. The Bears drive to start the connected from the 29 at 5:28 second half was just about all running except a Wade-to-Marconi screen pass for 28 yards. The Bays put the halt on near the 12 and Le Clerc hit a field goal from 19 and it was 16-0.

After Norton and Green exchanged punts, Roosevelt Taylor made an interception of a Roach pass right out of Boyd Dowler's hands on the Packer 43 and returned to the 35. The Bay defense was up to the task again and Le Clerc again missed a field goal try.

Bratkowski entered the game at this point but on the first play of the fourth quarter Taylor intercepted Brat's pass and the Bears were off to the field goal races again. With fourth and three, Le Clerc tried a field goal from the 37 but the Bays were offside and the kick was wide from the 37. So the Bears tried again — only to be held again. This time Le Clerc tried from the 35 and it was good for a 19-0 lead with 4:23 gone in the final period.

The Bays were forced to gamble with about 9 minutes left, but Bratkowski was off target. He twice had Jeter open for touchdown shots but the throws were both wide. When four straight passes were incomplete the Bears took over on downs on the Bay 39.

Moore Gains 18
The defense stayed tough and Le Clerc was wide on a field goal try from the 49. After Moore gained 18, Bratkowski's pass aimed at Dowler was intercepted by McRae and he raced down the sideline for 44 yards to the 5. On second down Wade ran right end on a keep for the TD.

Finally, the Bays scored. On first downs, Bratkowski and McGee connected on a 64-yard aerial gain. Taylor caught up to McGee on the Bear 16. After two Bear penalties Moore ran 11 yards for his TD. J. Kramer converted at 10:50.

The Bears froze the ball for eight plays, with time running out before Green was forced to punt. On the last play Bratkowski's pass was ruled an interception by Taylor.

Roach, who maneuvered the Packers to three straight victories in the absence of injured linemen, said he was high — "I never dreamed we'd get beat. I thought we were ready."

Bruising Ron Kramer, waxed philosophical, however, and simultaneously outlined what lies ahead with pungent clarity, declaring, "We just have to suck It took Jim Taylor Roach's it in and get after 'em."

High Fashion Discount Stores a New Industry

BY SYLVIA PORTER

There's a new, booming industry in the U.S. today which is so hush-hush that one of its leaders calls it "the industry which isn't an industry" and adds flatly, "We don't like any publicity at all."

The business already runs into millions of dollars a year is now spreading from New York, heart of the fashion industry, into cities across the nation. Yet it's no secret that every segment in it — manufacturer, retailer, customer — resents publicity, advertising is next to zero, many advertising media won't accept its ads or even mention the industry's existence and no hard statistics are gathered or revealed.

This secret business is cut-rate haute-couture — the sale of the highest fashion most expensive, original dresses suits and coats in unfashionable plain pipe-rack shops at prices often below wholesale and representing savings from the initial the designers' names and price tags would stun you, for you'd find samples from the greatest names in United States fashion. Triguere, Norman Norrell, Dior. You'd see a new, undamaged Oleg Cassini dress priced in a top-name shop at $110 tagged here at $49.95, a three-piece Ben Zuckerman suit priced at $795 on Fifth Ave. tagged here at $499.95, a Molly Parnis dinner gown advertised at $125 tagged here at $69.95.

Prices at these cut-rate shops range from $12 to $1200, average $40-$90, and the markdown on each is usually at least 40 per cent.

Where do these clothes come from? They come from designers-manufacturers who have produced more than they can sell to their preferred outlets the million today, expects to expand its present four-store chain to Washington and Chicago soon. If you walked into one of these modest, unassuming stores located well off the gold-plated clothing track, you'd see an unforgettable sight: dozens of beautifully dressed women pulling dresses off iron pipe racks, trying them on in crowded community dressing rooms, having whispered conversations with salesgirls about the identities of particular dresses man's stocks 30,000 items at all times, checking out their final purchases at cash registers as franklin. Our customers must understand that they can't necessarily buy what they want if you are fashion conscious, when they want it. They may

A Load of Civil Defense shelter supplies has been delivered to Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company, Kaukauna. Clarence Jansen, materials handling foreman, is shown checking as supplies are unloaded. The supplies were the first received in Kaukauna and are designed to sustain life during periods of emergency in the firm's fallout shelters. A total of 5,772 persons can be accommodated in the shelter areas. Others from left are, James Achten and Harold Doering. (Thilco News Photo)

U. S. Chance To Help Peru Indians Lost

$10 Million Would Have Established Tool Loan Center

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The United States seems to have missed a good chance to help the poorest people of Peru because of red tape plus what South Americans consider an overdeveloped "banker mentality" in Washington.

The $10-million incident is small by comparison with overall U.S. assistance to Peru which in the past two years has amounted to about $150 million with more to come. But it is important because the new government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry seems determined to move fast on reform and development programs.

The question is whether the United States can move fast also.

A few weeks ago Belaunde asked the United States for a $10 million loan of $10 million. He said he wanted to buy simple hand tools for the millions of Indian peasants in the mountainous interior of the country. He laid out a plan to set up 144 tool lending centers—one in each county seat.

Everyone agrees these simple tools are the things the Indians need most—to dig ditches for water supply, to build roads to cultivate the land. Most have only primitive wooden digging sticks and short-handled wooden hoes.

U.S. officials here hope Belaunde's goal of raising the living standards of the Indians and integrating them into modern economic life can be realized. The Indians, about half Peru's 10 million population, are illiterate and poverty-stricken.

Belaunde first put his proposal before U.S. aid agency officials. They pointed out that the United States already had approved a limited roadbuilding plan, including a supply of bulldozers and similar heavy machinery, which would serve as a pilot project for an expanded program.

It takes an average of about two years to get approval for a new proposal and Belaunde was asked to wait and see how the pilot project worked out.

Belaunde, a man in a hurry, turned to the export-import bank. He felt that the roadbuilding machines would not serve his broader purposes of improving farm production and water supply through self-help methods. Also it would cover only about five of his 144 rural centers.

areas at the mill where the protection factor is more than 100 and are designated as Class A shelters.

Fallout shelters at Thilmany are located in the basements of the supercylinder building and pulp storage area at Mill No. 2 and in most of the basement area at Mill No. 1. Two relatively small areas have factors from 49 to 99. The Thilmany areas will provide space for 5,772 persons.

The shipment included 135 cartons of carbohydrates, 794 cartons of crackers, 58 cartons of polyethylene bag liners, 116 sanitation kits and 22 medical kits.

Thilmany Gets CD Supplies For Shelters

KAUKAUNA — A full load of civil defense supplies were received recently at the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company for be stored in the fallout shelter use in civil defense shelters. The supplies designed to sustain life during periods of emergency were received under the Department of Defense. According to Robert E. Strauss, Thilmany's production services manager and administrative assistant for the firm's disaster control program, the supplies will be stored in the fallout shelter find sizes, seasons and styles slightly off.

Who are the customers and how do they know they're getting the real thing without the guidance of labels? While some customers simply walk in off the street and don't know what they are getting, a spokesman for Loehmann's reports, There is a large body of sophisticated women who know feminine fashions inside and out who can tell who designed a dress from its lining. They know how to shop. They read the fashion press and can recognize the real thing without name tags or labels.

Many of the customers—fashion models and editors, diplomats' wives, clothes-conscious career girls—first window-shop the top stores to study styles and prices, then go to the discounters to buy. Some visit the stores weekly to check on any new big-name bargains.

Despite the plea, "Don't give us any publicity!" this story is too good to hide. If you can find a cut-rate haute-couture outlet, if you know high fashion and don't mind pipe-rack shopping, see for yourself what bargains there are for you. (Distributed 1963)

Asian Politician Bemoans U. S. Bungling at Home and Abroad

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
TOKYO (AP) — The Indian politician stopped suddenly in the midst of a torrent of complaints about Americans, as if rocked by a sudden idea. He fixed me with a puzzled stare, then punched a finger into my chest. "Why," he demanded, "can't you Americans be more mature and rotten, like the British?" He had been bemoaning American "imperialism," alleged American bungling in Asia, and the behavior of Americans at home, especially with regard to the Negro problem.

An Impression
One got the impression that deep down, he really missed the British "imperialists" who, to him, were mature enough to set matters right without apology or timidity, and "rotten enough in the old days not to care too much about how they did it."

The American image in Asia has been badly damaged by U.S. integration troubles. But it suffers in other ways, too. The United States often is in the position of being the best liked and least respected of the big powers.

Asia is a continent of boiling

What is the image of the United States in Asia? Where does America stand in the eyes and minds of people in the teeming lands of the East? AP Special Correspondent William L. Ryan has just completed a six-week swing through seven Asian nations, interviewing high officials and the man in the street. This dispatch, first of a series of three, reports his findings as they concern the position of the United States.

Contradictions. What the United States does for one country can outrage another. What Americans do at home can puzzle and confuse Asian intellectuals who may have viewed the United States as an example and a hope for their own future.

U. S. Image
What is the U.S. image in Asia? It is many images, good and bad. The bad are more important so far as American goals are concerned.

Generally, Americans are well liked and the United States is admired. But these things must be qualified.

To Asian intellectuals, the United States is an enormously powerful nation with an awesome arsenal of weapons. It has achieved great things at home, the young intellectual has a feeling of disappointment, even disillusion and outrage, when he believes that the United States has bungled in the continent or tarnished itself at home.

America Watched
The United States is watched the way a teen-ager might watch a movie idol—jealously, critically.

Everywhere I went in Asia I was questioned about Negroes in the United States.

In one capital, a high-ranking government official told me, not bitterly but in wonder, how he was refused service in a Washington restaurant.

A Vietnamese said, "President Diem treated our Buddhists badly. But have you treated your Negroes any better?"

Only Answer
The only answer one can give is that the U.S. government is trying to do something about it.

The answer is inadequate. The question comes back, "But what makes Americans that way?"

In India, samplings indicate that the United States is by far the most liked of the world's developed nations. In Thailand, the people seem to get along famously with everyday Americans, even though Thailand's government sometimes seems annoyed with Washington.

In Pakistan, whose government has been engaged in applying pinpricks to the U.S. hide, anti-Americanism can be whipped up fairly easily by a controlled press. It is not real.

Angered By U. S.
It is a maneuver of Pakistan's military ruler, angered by U.S. arms aid to India, and play on nationalistic feelings and Pakistani terror of India.

There remains much that Asians criticize. They tell you they are bewildered by the prospect of American policy shifting from month to month — now calling for democracy, now backing a harsh military dictator.

The most frequent complaint about the United States from Asians is this:

"You just don't understand us."

Tomorrow: The Soviet image in Asia.

Boys Rescued After Sand Slide Burys Them

Post-Crescent News Service
KEWAUNEE — Two Kewaunee boys were trapped for about an hour and a half Saturday by a gravel slide in a pit near here.

The boys, Russell Shillin and Mark Jadin, both 11, were freed by rescuers about 4:30 p.m. They were taken to St. Mary Hospital in Kewaunee. Mark's mother, Mrs. Patricia Jadin, said their condition was not considered serious.

Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shillin.

Mrs. Jadin said Mark, Russell and Donald Augustine, 9, were returning from a hike and decided to cut through the gravel pit to avoid a woods where they had heard hunters. The pit is about a mile northwest of here.

Get Help
Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Augustine, Kewaunee, escaped the slide and ran home to the nearby home of Russell Kieckbusch. He asked Bruce Kieckbusch, 12, for a shovel and told him of his friends' plight. Bruce went into the house and told his mother.

Mrs. Kieckbusch took the boys and drove to the pit.

"When I got there, Russell had his head and right arm on top of the sand," she said. "But all I could see besides this was the top of a blonde head. I got down on my hands and knees and began digging sand away so that Mark could breathe.

About this time, Dennis Martins, Kewaunee, who had been hunting in the area, arrived. Mrs. Kieckbusch told Martins to continue digging while she went for help. She called the Kewaunee county sheriff department.

Free Head
Martins meanwhile had freed Mark's head so he could breathe, but the youth appeared to be unconscious. They continued to dig and used their hands to keep smaller slides from further engulfing the boy.

A rescue force of about 15 persons including Kewaunee firemen, law enforcement officers and volunteers soon arrived.

Fire Chief Orville Schultz said rescuers used planks and fence posts to build a retaining wall around the boys.

Kewaunee County Undersheriff Darwin Legois said the boys were trapped in one of several small gravel pits dug into the side of a hill. This one was about 20 feet deep.

Schultz said the boys were worried chiefly about getting home late for supper. They kept asking what time it was.

Crashing Helicopters Research for Safety

BY ROBERT K. WALKER
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ten large military helicopters have crashed at the Deer Valley Air-South Viet Nam. Inside the helicopters are instruments, dummies, standard equipment and experimental devices designed by the division. Manufacturers also may have new designs aboard.

Neither poor pilots, faulty aircraft nor sabotage is to blame, "Fire is the big killer in crashes," Rothe says. "If you It's done on purpose by the Aviation Safety Engineering and Research Division of Flight to escape once the whole thing Safety Foundation, Inc. The ob-ject is to find out what causes injuries in aircraft crashes, and is living space within the air-test equipment designed to craft, the crash is survivable. minimize such injuries.

The division began crashing helicopters in 1960 under a con-tract with the U.S. Army Trans- portation Research Command, with hardware—something in-volved in the design of air-craft."

In addition to the tests, the organization also investigates about 30 military, private and commercial crashes each year. The non-profit research organ-ization began in 1942 at Cornell University. When the division moved to Phoenix in 1957 it had only a few employees. Now there some of them work."

President of Iraq, Military Leaders Take Over Control

Apparently Aim to Reunite With Syria, United Arabs

BY ALEX EFTY
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Abdel Salam Aref and the leaders of the Iraqi armed forces overthrew the country's Baath Socialist government today and took control.

Aref

Aref in one of his early proclamations indicated that he hoped to revive the agreement to merge Iraq with Syria and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The president, an admirer of Nasser, said he would cooperate closely with all Arab nations, "especially with the United Arab Republic."

Aref, who has been Iraq's provisional president since the military ousted Premier Abdel Karim Kassam's dictatorship in February, assumed full powers as head of a new revolutionary council.

Dissolves National Guard
He ordered dissolution of the National Guard, a semi-military unit of Baath Socialist party youths loyal to ousted Deputy Premier Ali Saleh El Saadi, leader of an extreme left faction of Baathists. All guardsmen were ordered to surrender their weapons to the armed forces. Those who refused were to be executed on the spot.

Baghdad Radio said the armed forces had captured National Guard headquarters and taken a number of guardsmen prisoner.

The armed forces also were reported to have encountered some resistance in sections of Baghdad, but appeared to have full control by mid-morning. A general curfew proclaimed at 6:40 a.m. was eased to allow bakers and others in essential services to go to their jobs.

External Power Struggle

Aref said in a statement broadcast over Baghdad Radio that he was taking over full powers to safeguard the unity of the Iraqi people.

Boys Rescued In Landslide At Gravel Pit

KEWAUNEE (AP) — A short cut ended in a long ordeal for two 11-year old boys Saturday. Tragedy was averted by the quick thinking and fast work of their younger companion, a housewife and a passing hunter.

The boys were trapped for 90 minutes in a landslide of sand at gravel pit through which they were hiking to avoid a woods where hunters were shooting. Russell Shilling and Mark Jadin, both of Kewaunee, were taken to St. Mary's Hospital after being trapped near the bottom of the 20-foot pit. Their condition was described as not serious.

Runs for Help

Donald Augustine, 9, also of Kewaunee, escaped the slide and ran 500 feet to the Russell Kieckbusch home. He told of his friends' plight and asked the family's son, Bruce, for a shovel. Mrs. Kieckbusch drove with Donald and Bruce to the pit.

She found Russell with his head and right arm above the sand and gravel but all she could see of Mark was "a blond head."

Mrs. Kieckbusch opened a space around Mark's head. Dennis Martins of Kewaunee passed by on his way home from hunting and was hailed by Mrs. Kieckbusch. Martins took over the digging while Mrs. Kieckbusch went to a nearby home to call for help.

A 15-man rescue crew of Kewaunee firemen, sheriff's officers and volunteers built a retaining wall of planks and posts around the boys and dug them out.

All through the ordeal the trapped boys kept asking the time. They said they were most concerned about getting home in time for supper.

Trade War Disappoints Kremlin

Moscow's Confidence of Victory Over Capitalists Grows Dimmer

BY STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Growing disappointment to the Kremlin in Moscow confidence in Russian trade-and-aid offensive. Even in Moscow confidence launched a decade ago to try to has dimmed. American government sweep new and neutral nations into the Communist camp, is a emerging countries of Africa and Asia soon will reject capitalism in a great "national-liberation movement."

And comparisons of 1962 trade data now available confirm that Russia remains a puny commercial rival of the United States in all but a few limited areas of the non-Communist world.

Two-thirds of Russia's trade continues to be with its captive market, the Communist bloc in Europe, but its goal of "burying" the United States as the foremost trading nation depends on the penetration of the vast and swiftly growing Western markets and the developing nations.

Russian progress has been of substantial, considering that the Sunday to enable Brown's four Soviets started virtually from scratch. But Washington's concern is less with the trade volume — as an entire bloc, the Communist group generates more political mileage per ruble of foreign aid than the United States gets per dollar.

Soviet aid programs are inexpensive, shrewdly aimed at the West's worst trouble spots, designed for maximum pay-off in political or military advantage and magnified by adroit propaganda techniques.

But analysts who advise the State Department and Congress now note rising skepticism toward the Marxist promise even in the underdeveloped lands where Russia has poured out rubles and promises.

U.S. expert, Leon Herman, Soviet economic analyst for the Library of Congress, told an in-

Kennedy Denies His Administration Has Adopted Anti-Business Attitude

Public Interest Big Issue, He Says in Florida Speech

BY FRANK CORMIER

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy said today his administration is not out to "soak the rich" but, rather, to lead the nation into "prosperity in an age of peace and abundance."

In a major address to the Florida Chamber of Commerce, Kennedy gave the most detailed reply yet to those who argue that his administration is anti-business.

Declaring that Kennedy programs are not pro-business nor anti-business but "pro the public interest," the President said "we are interested in the steady progress of our entire society."

The speech to the business audience was one of five that Kennedy scheduled for the out- ward of a two-stage talking tour which he hopes will help him capture the South's most populous states—Florida and Texas—in 1964. He stumps Florida today and moves into Texas on Thursday.

Answers Questions

In his text for the Tampa audience, Kennedy raised "the four questions I am most frequently asked by members of the business community." In each case the President contradicted what he pictured as dominant business thinking. The questions and his answers were:

"Is the federal government so large that our private economy is endangered?"

Kennedy said the government has been growing for 175 years but population has grown even faster; that there has been no sudden spurt in government growth since he took office, that a 65 per cent increase in federal civilian spending since 1948 has contrasted with a 227 per cent rise in state outlays.

"Are not continuing deficits and the mounting national debt certain to drive us into bankruptcy?"

Not Near Bankruptcy
Since 1948, he said, the federal debt has risen by 20 per cent, state debt by 41 per cent, corporation debt by 200 per cent and citizen debt by more than 300 per cent.

"Obviously," he said, "neither the states nor the nation are teetering on the edge of bankruptcy."

The cases on which the court heard arguments involved sit-ins in Maryland, South Carolina and Florida. There were two cases from Maryland and two from South Carolina.

The court divided 5-4 on the question of requesting the Justice Department's views on the constitutional issues in the from the area.

AFL-CIO Takes Up Civil Rights Issue At Convention

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO convention takes up the civil rights issue today, amid expression of dissatisfaction with President Kennedy's legislation on the subject.

A. Philip Randolph, only Negro vice president of the labor organization, said he is not satisfied with Kennedy or the AFL-CIO in pressing for equal rights for Negroes. He warned of a possible "nationwide, bloody race war" in the United States.

Another AFL-CIO vice president, James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said his union would give strong support to two resolutions by Randolph aimed at discouraging racial discrimination.

AFL-CIO President George Meany appointed a special task force to deal with the civil rights issue at the biennial convention.

Carey said in an interview the AFL-CIO should give "active, affirmative support for legislation now being held up in the house rules committee."

AP Series Probes U.S., Communist Images in East

"You just don't understand us," Asians complain to Americans.

AP special correspondent William L. Ryan has completed a six-week survey of nations living in the shadow of Red China to find out what influence the United States, the Soviet Union and Red China are having on the teeming lands of the east.

The U.S. image, he finds, is tarnished, but a little better than a few years ago, though Asians remain critical. The Soviet image, once mighty, has become marred. The Chinese are feared, but respected as Asians.

Ryan has embodied his overall findings in a series of three articles, the first of which may be found today on page B-14.

Oshkosh Men Back New Hospital Bill

Two Institution Officials Appear Before State Senate

OSHKOSH—Supt. William O. Vogel of the Winnebago County institutions and trustees chairman J. F. Shea of the Winnebago County Hospital and Pleasant Acres Home appeared before the State Senate today in support of a bill relating to county hospital reimbursement.

Both the Winnebago County board and the board of trustees of the Winnebago County Hospital have gone on record as favoring passage of this bill out of their own pockets for which was reported favorably by the legislature's joint committee on finance.

Both Winnebago and Outagamie counties now are among the counties in the state under the present reimbursement formula. This formula takes the average care of all county hospitals in the state and then splits that cost in half with the county of residence paying half and the state the other half.

Make Up Difference

The bill provides that the county of residence make up that difference between the state's average share and the actual cost. Those counties, such as Winnebago and Outagamie, now must pay that difference favoring passage of this bill out of their own pockets for which was reported favorably by the legislature's joint committee on finance.

Reynolds Asked to Review Water Bill

Milwaukee Men Say Appleton's Plan Might Permit Diversion

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds has been urged by Milwaukee officials to review carefully a bill now before him which would allow diversion of waters from Lakes Michigan and Superior by cities within a 50 mile radius of the two lakes.

The bill was introduced on behalf of the city of Appleton which plans to draw water from Lake Michigan through a pipe line and return it to the lake.

Brookfield, Harry Slater, deputy Milwaukee city attorney, and Sen. Richard Nowakowski, D-Milwaukee, asked Reynolds to attach a condition to the bill which would require that water taken from the lakes be returned to its original source.

The officials said that any diversion of water by Wisconsin cities to other watersheds would totally negate the legal position of our state in water diversion litigation now before the United States Supreme Court.

Wisconsin and five other Great Lakes states have obtained an injunction preventing two small Illinois communities from taking Lake Michigan water which eventually would be dispersed into the Mississippi River. An action to prevent Chicago from diverting additional Lake Michigan water which eventually goes to the Mississippi also is pending before the high court.

The six states contend such water diversion has the effect of lowering the lake level.

Mrs. Rolfeison was treated at Waupaca Riverside Memorial Hospital for head wounds, and is temporarily living with her oldest daughter at Appleton. Her two younger children, a high school boy and a grade school girl, also are staying there.

Reimers is being held without bond in Waupaca County jail pending the preliminary hearing. He was ordered held for County Court Tuesday when he appeared before Municipal Justice George Whalen. Reimers declined a preliminary hearing in Municipal Justice Court.

Johnston to Prosecute Atty. Richard E. Johnson, special prosecutor for the last Waupaca County murder case, was named Wednesday by Judge McHenry to represent Reimers. Reimers claimed he had insufficient funds to hire legal counsel.

Dist. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson said he did not want to say who states' witnesses will be before the hearing.

John Bonnell, a Waupaca County policeman, has quoted Holmes as saying, "George shot me and chased Ruth out the front door... he said he was going to kill her."

Bonnell is believed to be the only policeman who talked to Holmes before Holmes died about 2:05 a.m. Sunday at the hospital.

Mrs. Forest Diley has said she was alerted to the shooting when Mrs. Rolfeison burst into her home, bleeding from a head wound. Mrs. Diley called the sheriff's department to report the incident. Mrs. Diley also drove Mrs. Rolfeison to the hospital.

Sheriff Frazier, who took Reimers' statement, and Under-sheriff William Mork, also may be witnesses.

Man Denies 3 Gambling Offenses

Sylvester (Sonny) Kersten, 50, 1212 W. Elsie St., pleaded innocent Friday at Milwaukee County Court to three counts of failure to pay the $50 annual federal gambling tax.

Kersten was indicted by a federal grand jury Oct. 30 on charges of accepting wagers and being involved in gambling pools. He was one of four Fox River Valley men charged as a result of a recent crackdown when agents inspected several taverns in Oshkosh and Appleton.

U.S. District Judge Kenneth Grubb released the defendant on bond. No date was set for a trial.

Team has a tradition of ball-hawking and shooting. The Falcons are pinning their little hopes on the considerable talents of center Mike Maurer.

The 6-3 pivot man captured the league's individual scoring title last year in a breeze. He has a 6-4 teammate in Tom Mueller.

The other two contenders are marked by sharp contrasts. New Holstein has speed, experience and ample ball handling and shooting ability but not one of their seven returning lettermen tops the 6-foot mark. Kohler, meanwhile, will be able to send a lowering quietest onto the floor led by 6-7 Arlyn Wesel.

Shawano Highway Workers Reject Offer

County Board Restates Earlier Proposal Providing Pay Hike, Hour Revision

SHAWANO — Members of the Shawano County highway employees union and the advisory committee of the county board negotiated for an hour behind closed doors Friday with the union reportedly turning down a wage and hours revision offered by the county.

Another Meeting Set Richard Swanson, Appleton, union representative, said a decision had been reached to hold another meeting sometime during the second week in December. The union and the advisory committee, he said, agreed that the wages and hours proposals that they adopted the report of the fact finder appointed by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board.

He termed the absence of more than 50 highway employees from their jobs one morning an "authorized absence."

Swanson said the county made the same offer to the union Friday it had made Oct. 22. That the board had an offer to make offer was rejected again Friday but he felt it was futile to pre-day. It called for a 10 cent per hour raise and a revision of the vance that the offer would be work week from 50 hours for turned down since the union had eight months and 45 hours for indicated it preferred negotia-four months to 45 hours for eight lions through a committee plan months and 47 1/2 hours for four rather than with the county board as a whole.

Land Purchase Being Studied

Forest Junction Civic Unit Considers Business Property

FOREST JUNCTION — Purchase of the mercantile property of the late G. H. Schmitt for conversion to community use was considered at a regular meeting of the Forest Junction Civic League Thursday.

The property was offered for sale by one of the heirs, a son, Sherman Schmitt of Woodstock, Ill.

It includes approximately two lots, 50 by 200 feet, in one of the business districts of the village, and one of the earliest general stores of the village dating back to the 1880's. The building has been vacant for a little more than three years.

Appoint Committee
Though acquisition of the property by a non-stock, non-profit corporation was recognized as of questionable compatibility, a special committee was appointed to investigate. On the committee named by H. L. Krueger, league president, are Earl Jansch, Stuart Comins and Gerald Burg.

By-laws were amended reducing the number of regular league meetings per year to two. Annual meeting in May and a mid-year meeting in November are being retained, eliminating meetings in February and August. Meetings are held the third Thursday evening of the respective months.

Planting of 500 State Conservation evergreens in Freitag Memorial Park was approved for next spring and a sign bearing the name of the Park is to be erected along the Mill Street frontage.

Communist Travel Restrictions

The new restrictions upon travel in this country by Russian diplomats and those from five Soviet bloc nations are difficult to figure out. Maybe it is simply that Americans are just a little uncomfortable when involved in cloak and dagger business, but the whole government action in this case doesn't make much sense.

In the past, travel restrictions have been set up primarily in retaliation for such restrictions on Americans traveling in Communist countries. But this time the announcement came after four months of arguments among various Administration agencies and didn't seem associated with anything in particular. During those four months we had been through the friendly "Spirit of Moscow" and the more recent unfriendly one. A nuclear test ban treaty had been signed and wheat offered for sale to Russia. The Soviets had stopped our convoys on the German autobahn and announced they were abandoning the race to the moon. Satellite nations had relaxed travel restrictions and the Russians arrested a Yale professor.

There seems to be no connection then between Red actions and the travel restrictions. And State Department officials, who want to hold up their hands and proclaim that we have nothing to hide over here, are obviously unhappy and in disagreement with the restrictions.

Certainly the restrictions are not meant really to hamper Red espionage. Diplomats are the only ones who are barred from unrestricted travel. Russian newsmen or tourists in general may go anywhere they want. And, while Polish diplomats are restricted, Yugoslavians are not because, said a spokesman glibly, Yugoslavia isn't part of the Soviet bloc.

The counties which are off-limits make up about 11 per cent of the United States. Presumably among them there are operations that we do not care to have the Communists know all about. But why is Brown County open to all and Winnebago and Outagamie Counties restricted? Is this supposed to fool the Russians so that they have to search thoroughly through 355 counties for something secret while all the time there is nothing in any of them to hide?

We have never been able to detect much sense in putting part of this nation off-limit to diplomats from Communist nations just out of retaliation because they do the same thing. The latest restrictions just don't seem to have any consistency of policy at all.

The Waupaca County Hospital

A state recommendation recently that Waupaca County Mental Hospital make 27 improvements at the facility within 90 days created feelings of shock and mixed emotion.

The Waupaca County Board was told the directives had to be met to bring the hospital up to even minimum standards. The state consultant said the county could have made the changes at least two years ago when it was informed of minimum requirements.

Had state and county officials cooperated with this newspaper, these conditions at the hospital would have been reported last year and the county saved embarrassing publicity.

Information when requested by a Post-Crescent reporter was denied. The state said recommendations for the hospital had to be released by the county. The county would not give out the data.

Many of the recommendations are minor, but several show glaring shortcomings in view of today's care of the mentally ill.

Studies show treatment today by professionals will bring a higher incidence of healing. Mental hospitals in the past worked on the basis of custodial care. Treatment and custodial care are used today in a more integrated and meaningful program to heal patients and save taxpayers' dollars because confinement periods are shorter.

"Park benches and dingy, poorly lighted wards stereotype a hospital—a stigma is associated with it," the state consultant told the county board.

Park benches for lounge chairs, lack of professional care (the county has no full-time registered nurse, no part-time psychiatrist nor social worker), lack of some basic sanitary measures and too few personnel were cited as more glaring shortcomings.

J. Paul Jones, administrator at the institution, took exception to the state edicts. He feels if directives are followed the "homey atmosphere" of the home will break down.

Some faults at the hospital are not the fault of the county board nor hospital administration. Wisconsin now is attempting to bring facilities for treatment up to date. Information on needed changes has been slow in coming. Now that it is here, the State Department of Public Welfare is taking steps to follow them.

We are sure Waupaca supervisors and taxpayers feel a responsibility toward hospital patients.

Steps should be taken to remove the stigma the recommendations have given the hospital. Patients should have professional care and treatment.

The hospital claims it has the highest incidence of discharge in the state. With professional care, the rate at the hospital may soar and make its operation a credit to the taxpayers of Waupaca County.

Another Railroad Inequity

The local property taxes which the Great Northern Railway will pay in Cut Bank, Mont., this year include $871 allocated for operation of the local airport. But West Coast Airlines, the only carrier using the field, will pay only $5.43 for the same purpose. And in addition, the airline receives a federal subsidy of $25,000 per year just for stopping at Cut Bank, a city of 5,400 people.

The Wall Street Journal tells this story in an article dealing with the property tax assessments which are levied on railroads in comparison with the assessments on other carriers such as trucking concerns and airlines. In Montana railroad property is generally assessed at 35 per cent of market value, while that of competing airlines and trucks is computed at a statewide average of 8 per cent.

Railroads are quietly pushing a campaign to correct these inequities where they exist. They are seeking relief in the courts, lobbying before city councils and state legislatures, and are asking the Federal government for legislation which would require local taxing districts to apply the property tax burden equally on all property owners.

The Post-Crescent has complained on numerous occasions about the complete lack of progress being made in Congress to devise legislation which would assure the nation's railroad industry the opportunity of competing on an equal basis with other carriers. Such legislation has been suggested by both the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations.

For the future of the country it might be actually better if Congress put aside the lengthy consideration of the tax cut bill and civil rights legislation and took some action to preserve the economic health of our vital railroad industry.

News From Menasha Chaplain

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Nov. 26, 1863.

(The following is an excerpt from the letter of the Rev. O. P. Clinton, Menasha, chaplain of the Wisconsin 21st Regiment at Chattanooga, Tenn. The letter was dated Nov. 11, 1863, written at the regimental camp.)

Editor Motor: We hear glad tidings from Wisconsin—the rebellion has been rebuffed—union and liberty bearing off the palm (referring to the recent elections).

The health of our troops is very good and I hear no one complains of this partial rest and quiet after a hard and severe summer campaign. The fortifications of this place are being rapidly strengthened and perfected and numerous heavy guns look threateningly toward the enemy.

quiet will probably be of short duration. . .

Our camps are all in fine condition and the quarters of each little squad of men present the appearance of good taste and a degree of comfort rarely seen in the field. Nearly every tent in our Brigade has a nice, brisk fireplace, with which it is warmed and lighted, and made as cheerful as a soldier's home can be.

The nights are quite cold and many of the men suffer for want of clothing and blankets. The overcoats were left stored at Murfreesboro and many blankets were lost in the recent battle (Chickamauga), which is very much felt. When on picket duty, the want of overcoats subjects the poor men to great suffering.

As transportation is now more direct and effective, we hope soon to see all well supplied. The troops have been on short rations, but now are comfortably supplied. These trials and difficulties have been endured with manful and soldierly cheerfulness and fortitude for which great credit is given our men.

Our religious service is attended with as much regularity as the state of the weather and the circumstances of the men permit. Meetings for prayer and religious conference are sustained with profit and edification to all who attend.

In our regiment profane swearing is not as common as when we came into service, and either for want of liquor or for some other reason, we see little or no effect on this bane of humanity. What changes a payment or the presence of a few unprincipled sultans may make, remains yet to be seen.

The 10th Regiment (Wisconsin) is now favored with the labors of a Chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Benson, formerly of Appleton.

I see by the Nashville Union of Nov. 8th, Dr. S. E. Beach, assistant surgeon of the 8th Kansas, formerly a high esteemed citizen of Appleton, died in one of the hospitals at that place, on Nov. 4, while on the way to his family, having received a furlough on account of serious illness.

Parochial Students Morons? Nordlander Letter Debated

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Parochial schools do not graduate morons!

Mr. Nordlander's letter printed Nov. 13 thoroughly disgusted me, and I'm sure it did other Catholic and Lutheran readers of your paper. I resent the implications that attending a parochial school produces morons. He didn't say so in just those words—I just expressed so indirectly.

Since when does teaching religion as part of a school curriculum render a child's mind impotent to other areas of intellectual activity? One would think a parochial school has a continuous religion class from 8 in the morning to the ringing of the bell for "school's out!"

If, and I quote, "the mind of the child is closed by people who think they know the ultimate answers to everything as their minds were closed when they were children also"—then a great many of our cities, industries and colleges—non-Catholic as well—are run by these closed minds.

of higher learning in the latest move toward separation of Jews from other Germans. A man school system. Lower This meant final elimination of Jews of all ages from the Ger-grade children had been taken from German schools in 1936 and put in private Jewish schools; Jewish professors had been ousted from their positions previously.

In protest of the Nazi action against German Jews, 24 prominent citizens of Appleton and Outagamie County signed a telegram to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, urging firm and positive action in warning the Nazi government that continuation of the policy would threaten friendly relations between the two governments.

10 YEARS AGO

Monday, Nov. 16, 1953.

Dean Pingel, route 1, Hilbert, member of the Chilton High School chapter of Future Farmers of America, was the winner of the first agriculture short course scholarship to be awarded in Calumet County. Pingel, holder of a Wisconsin State Farmer degree in 4-H club work, was to further his education in agriculture at the University of Wisconsin.

Andrew Peters was elected president of the Tip Top 4-H Club at Black Creek. Other officers were Loren Otto, vice president; Donald Grady, treasurer; Rosemary Otto, secretary; Jeannette Natzke, reporter, and Verla Peters, sergeant-at-arms.

The newly organized Fox Valley Scottish Club was planning a "whist drive" and dance at the Appleton YMCA. Chairman of the food and decorations committee was Mrs. Gavin Morrison, assisted by Mrs. Tom Pollock Sr., Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Tom Pollock Jr. was to serve as program chairman and cardmaster for the "whist drive" or Scottish card game.

Gerald Ristau was one of the 11 candidates chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" at Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa. A senior at the college, Ristau was chosen by vote of the student body.

We have many fine civic leaders—presidents of our banks and industries, businessmen, lawyers, yes, even great scientists who were educated in the parochial system. But I forgot for a moment! You did say, Mr. Nordlander, that it was only a system and you could not put the label "educational" upon it?

I want you to know that our parochial schools give as good an education and an even better one, because of their religious classes, then the public schools in some cases. I mean no reflection on the public school system. If our church did not support a school and high school, I would be grateful to send my children to our public schools. They do a fine job!

How could you say that good citizenship is not even a goal of public school education because one might be forced to choose between being a good citizen or a human being? What's wrong with being both? Are not our good citizens from parochial schools human beings? And are not most human beings from public schools good citizens?

Maybe you'd better reread your letter Mr. Nordlander and realize the terrible things you've implied about the wonderful teachers—religious as well as laymen—who have dedicated their lives to teaching in parochial schools. The Lord said to the apostles when they rebuked the people for bringing their children to Him, "Let the children be, do not keep them back from me, the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these." He did not mean only the children who would go to parochial schools either. He meant all children.

Instead of criticizing, you should be grateful, as Mr. Wyngaard meant everyone to be, for such schools.

Catholic and Lutheran schools are crowded. So are public schools as well. Appleton public high school built for 1,500 students is now the crowded hall of learning for more than 1,900.

Parochial education is expensive! So is public! In some major cities of the Fox River Valley the local tax rate will go up between $1 and $5 per thousand this year just to finance new school construction.

If the parochial schools were to close their doors—you said people sending children to parochial schools should be encouraged to send them to public schools—the taxpayers couldn't afford to build the schools to accommodate them. The grand total savings in operating costs to taxpayers in just Neenah and Menasha by parochial grade and high schools alone for the period ending June 30, 1963 was $1,678,341.85. What would the cities do if they had to add that to the cost of new schools to accommodate another 3,869 children enrolled in these schools in the Twin Cities here alone? There are 2,435 in elementary grades in Menasha, 955 in Neenah and 479 in high school in Menasha. The taxpayer could multiply the $1 to $5 raise per thousand by "the Lord knows what figure"—I'm no mathematician! But

I do know that to build schools for 3,869 pupils according to the 25 to 30 allowed a teacher in a public school (the poor nuns and lay teachers will teach any amount if they have to until more dedicated people can be found and hired) we'd need at least 130 more classrooms—how many schools? I'm no contractor either!

So be grateful for our system, will you? We don't expect a bouquet of roses. We're doing all right without it. We've God's blessings too, you know. And you don't have to worry about a bill, I'm sure you won't get one now if after over 100 years (1852) of parochial school systems you haven't received one yet.

Meet Standards

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Mr. Nordlander gets my vote for the most uninformed man of the year.

Had he investigated he would know that aside from religion, the curriculum at our parochial schools must conform to the standards of the Wisconsin Board of Education.

Granted our schools are crowded, but then one of this area's public high schools has 1,900 students attending and a capacity for only 1,500.

Our teachers are not the narrow-minded people pictured in Mr. Nordlander's letter. Instead they have dedicated themselves and their lives to the betterment of our children. Parochial school students are not getting a second-rate education. They have the advantages of the most modern teaching methods.

Getting back to taxes. It costs more than $400 per pupil in the Menasha public schools. Should we still close our parochial schools? I think then the main concern won't be what the parochial schools are costing the community, but the added cost to each property owner.

I would like to invite Mr. Nordlander to visit our schools and to meet our fine teachers and students, who by the way won't be the second-rate citizens of the future, but the leaders of tomorrow.

Has All Answers

Editor, Post-Crescent:
I read with great interest the letter written by Robert Nordlander concerning the sad state of affairs of the parochial schools. It is certainly a relief to know that Mr. Nordlander has all the answers concerning education since there are thousands of stupid parents currently sending their children to parochial schools where these answers are not available.

Currently I have three children in a parochial school; therefore, I regard Mr. Nordlander's remarks as a challenge to my intelligence, an intelligence obtained in the public school system.

Here's Irony: Most Milwaukee Solons Oppose Fair Housing

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — On a recent morning in the Wisconsin state senate, Sen. Casimir Kendzior-ski of Milwaukee interrupted a routine discussion of legislation to perform a chore which is common for legislative representatives when the legislature is in session.

He asked leave to present to the senate clerk for the record a petition from his Milwaukee South Side constituents on the so-called fair housing bills which were then under debate in the state assembly. He explained that the petition was not relevant to the current calendar of the upper house, because no such bill was then before the senators, but asked that the clerk hold the document against the possibility that such a bill would come before the senators.

All of which would have passed without much notice — there are thousands of petitions on scores of subjects ranging from oleomargarine to fox bounties and youthful beer drinking — except for several things:

Sen. Kendzior-ski is a fervent, table-thumping Democrat who is rarely out of line on the issues favored by his party.

The bills proposing to outlaw racial discrimination in housing are officially backed by the Democratic party leadership and its platform.

Gov. Reynolds, the titular leader of the state Democratic administration, has worked harder to gather support for the anti-discrimination bills than on any other question during his term.

The Kendzior-ski district in Milwaukee is one of the safest for the Democratic party.

And the bundle of papers which he sent up to the front of the senate chamber, in size resembling the Milwaukee telephone directory, contained the protestations of his Milwaukee constituents and many others against the bills designed to ease the way for Negroes who want to rent or buy housing in heretofore white precincts.

MEANING

Nor was his position exceptional. Rather, his fervent opposition to the anti-discrimination bills comes pretty close to being typical among Milwaukee politicians today, if their legislative delegation is reasonably representative. The adamant refusal of a good share of the practicing politicians of the Democratic metropolis to follow their party's lead on this issue is one of the most uncomfortable facts of life for the state Democratic organization, as well as Gov. Reynolds and the other top men within it.

The housing and related bills were killed with the help of the overwhelming majority of the Republicans in the legislature. But the Republicans have cautiously avoided commitments on such matters in their campaign platforms.

For most of them, it may be presumed, the issue is fairly remote, since they represent counties in which the Negro is either nonexistent or a virtually invisible minority.

The hostile Democrats come from the one community in Wisconsin with a substantial Negro population, and the one from which the major pressure for such anti-discrimination legislation has come. Perhaps 80 per cent of the growing Negro minority in Wisconsin now lives in Milwaukee. But nearly half of the Milwaukee legislative Democrats, on the record, find it expedient or right to oppose the Negro pressure under response from their majority constituents.

In the nation today there is a good deal of speculation that the association of the Kennedy administration with the militant demands of the Negroes for housing and other laws may be damaging to the President among middle-class and working-class voters in the larger cities when he runs for reelection. The Milwaukee record thus far cannot be comforting to Kennedy Democrats.

Buying Clothes Shows Basic Sex Contrasts

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

I bought a new suit last week. I walked into the shop, said to a salesman, "Let me see a gray suit in a medium weight." He brought out a gray suit in a medium weight. I tried it on, said, "It seems all right," and the tailor came out to make the necessary alterations.

This is how a man, on the whole, buys a suit. I had no illusion that it would do anything for me except hide my underwear and provide pockets for my notes, cigarettes and glasses.

When a woman buys a comparable garment, however, it is not mostly a material purchase. It is a moment of magic: what she is looking for is not something to cover her, but something to change her. The involved and protracted purchase of clothes by woman cannot be understood unless we know what she is really looking for.

Husbands who are impatient and derisive and superior about their wives' clothes-buying habits fail to appreciate perhaps the most fundamental difference between the male and female. The male is idealistic in his beliefs, and practical in his conduct; the female is practical in her beliefs, and idealistic in her conduct.

Most of the abstractions that men believe in, and work for and fight for and sometimes die for, are thought to be nonsense by women. Abstract concepts of duty and honor and the dubious victories in conflict are considered as adolescent foolishness by women.

They are immensely practical and pragmatic and expedient and personal in their beliefs. It is in their conduct that idealism displays itself; and nowhere more so than in the purchase and wearing of clothes. Here, all practicality deserts them, and they become the victims of abstract delusions with no basis in fact.

What a woman wants in a new dress, or suit, or coat, is another facet to her personality. She clings to the irrational conviction that if only she had enough clothes, of various sorts, then somehow life would be different and better, new vistas would open, old problems be resolved, and her internal beauty would blossom for all the world to see.

This is a rather sweet and pathetic delusion, comparable to the male's delusion that if his party were only in office long enough, or his nation were solely supreme, then taxes would decrease, wars would cease, and profits would be limitless. There is little to choose between either of these forms of monomania—but the woman, at least, does not try to impose her delusions upon others. Her idealism is harmless, if expensive; man's is fatally dangerous and incalculable in cost.

U. S. Worried by Erratic Actions

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The cause American troops refused to leave the trucks to be counted, Kennedy, fed up, sent tanks in a way they never intended to smash the blockade, even if it meant a fiery showdown.

Missiles Withdrawn
Khrushchev withdrew his missiles. It was an ignominious defeat. The Russians let the trucks through even though the Americans persisted in refusing to descend to be counted.

The Russians claimed they counted the troops anyway, when they got out to walk around. Nevertheless, they backed down from the principle of their demand. Kennedy, on the other hand, did nothing to break the blockade.

Missiles in Cuba
They put missiles in Cuba, stopped American military trucks on the Autobahn in East Germany, and arrested Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, a 52-year-old expert on Soviet affairs who has made six trips to Russia.

Barghoorn, back home Sunday, put it this way to explain the unexplainable Russian performance in arresting him: "The Soviets will embark on a policy, more or less, feeling their way, even playing it by ear, so to speak."

This is a disturbing realization for in all three cases events could have taken a different turn with terrible consequences. The missile adventure or the blockade could have progressed into shooting and then into war.

For instance: If President Kennedy, instead of telling Premier Khrushchev to yank his missiles out of Cuba or else, for, after the Autobahn incident the missile danger was too immediate even for this short delay and ordered action against Cuba.

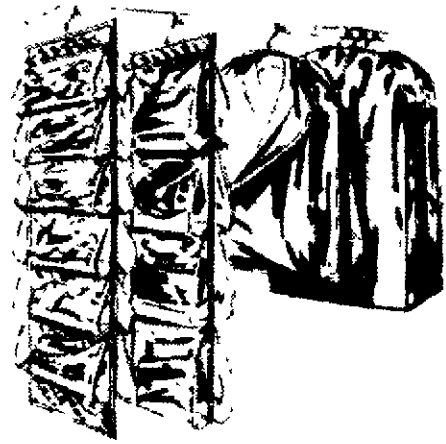

Or if, when the Russians

they turned him loose and sent him home after Kennedy publicly declared the professor was not a spy and indicated his detention might wreck the five-year-old American-Soviet cultural program.
and they had the goods on him. The fact they freed the professor so quickly is good evidence they had nothing on him triumph by proving it publicly in the first place. Barghoorn denied he had spied.

Prime Labor Issue

Jobs Are Subject of Economic Controversy

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The more the economy flexes its muscles, the more controversial becomes the subject of jobs. This is a present day switch from the traditional linking of good times with lots of jobs. Just now it doesn't seem to work that way.

The paradox: employment climbs to a record, but the clamor over lack of jobs grows. And labor prepares to make this a prime issue in next year's contract negotiations.

President Kennedy tells the AFL-CIO leaders that the cure for today's ills lies in cutting taxes to create jobs by increasing demand for goods and funds for investment.

Automation a Curse
The labor organization's president, George Meany, tells the same convention that automation is a curse that "could bring us to a national catastrophe" and implies that tax cut benefits are too delayed and even too unproved to be relied upon. Management insists that automation will make more jobs in the long run, just as previous phases of mechanization did. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York takes the middle ground that automation is a mixed blessing — bringing both good and bad.

Unions seek shorter weeks to spread the work. Management stresses greater unit production to hold down labor costs — and thereby, union critics say, cutting job opportunity still further.

Civil rights emphasis switches from the desegregation of lunch counters to more jobs for racial minorities. The job issue becomes more critical even than the makeup of school enrollment.

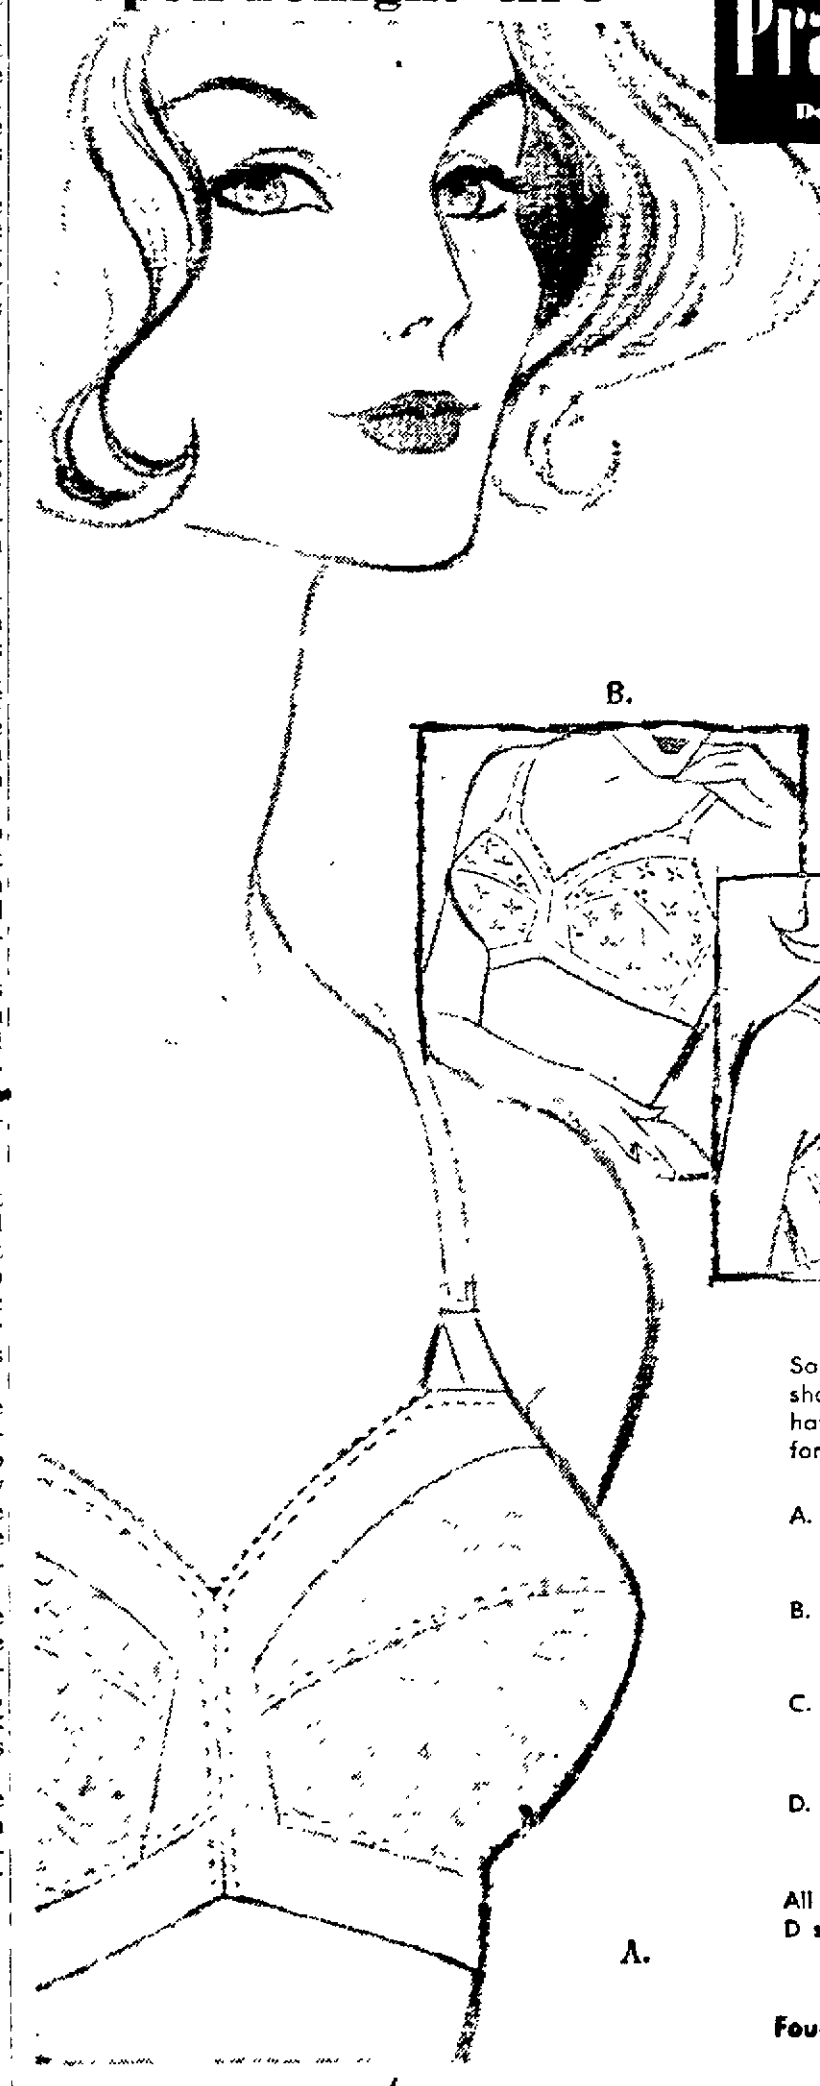

School Dropouts
Social scientists stress that juvenile delinquency and school dropouts are linked and that both are part of the over-all job problem. They see as the basic trouble the drop in demand for the unskilled and the emphasis on the highly trained.

And at the other end of the age scale, the cutoff age for getting a new job seems to drop each year. Older citizens grow bitter about it — even as life expectancy lengthens and the number of older, and unemployed, Americans multiplies.

At the same time there are jobs going begging, mostly those calling for more skill and training than the average citizen has, but also those in lines of work that are unattractive for various reasons.

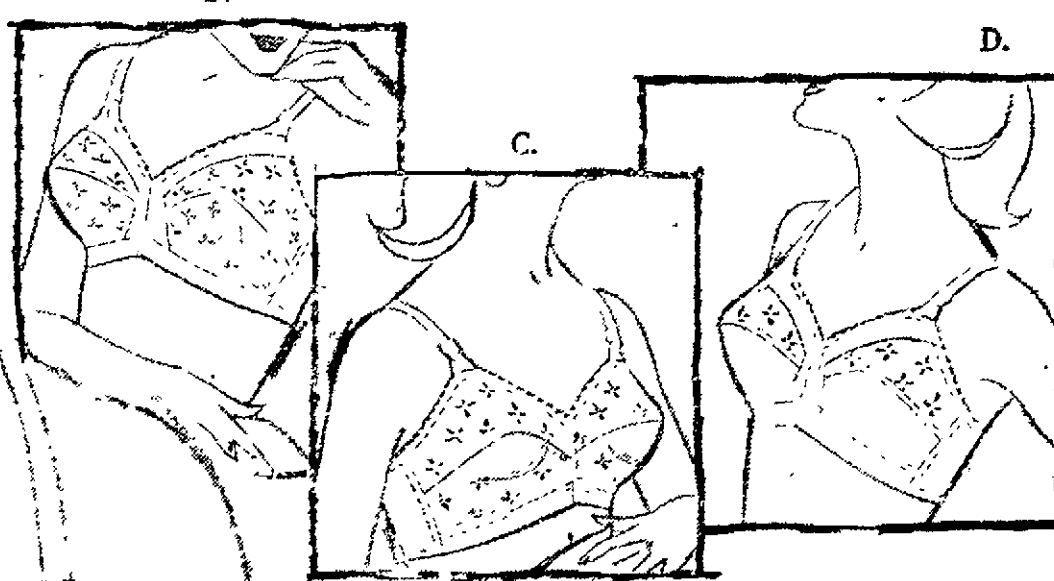

And the changing job picture has still other sides. Production workers totals are slow to ex-
